KAISER AT BIER OF KING

LONDON, May 19.—The mourning of the people was united to-day that royalty might pay tribute to the memory of Edward, VII. While 100,000 people waited in line to pass the catafalque in Westminster Hall, Kaiser Wilhelm II., who arrived in London at noon, placed a wreath upon the coffin.

For a few moments the warlord knelt in prayer att he side of his uncle's casket. Then, rising, he suddenly grasped the hands of King George V., who with Albert, King of the Belgians, accompanied the Kaiser.

The rulers of England and Germany were visibly affected. As the monarchs left the historic hall, the steady march of the populace past the coffin was resumed.

Roosevelt Calls on Kaiser.

The greetings of the Kaiser and King George, when they met, were most affectionate. From his cousin the Emperor turned to the young Duke of Cornwall and kissed him on both cheeks.

As the Emperor and King George drove to Buckingham palace, great crowds in the streets exhibited a lively interest in the German ruler.

The men raised their hats and the women waved their handkerchiefs as the royal carriage passed. Arriving at the palace, the Emperor was taken at once to the apartment of Queen Mother Alexandra.

Colonel Roosevelt on Today's Visit.

Colonel Roosevelt to-day visited the continental monarchs staying at Buckingham Palace. Shortly after the Kaiser arrived at Buckingham, Mr. Roosevelt drove up in a State carriage. The Kaiser appeared delighted to see him. The ex-President was cordially greeted also by the other royalties.

Roosevelt Children at Windsor.

Kermit and Miss Ethel to-day inspected Windsor, being taken over the extensive grounds and through many parts of the historic edifices there. Kermit also visited Eton College, where he was cheered by the students. Under the guidance of the provost he went through the entire establishment, laying flowers in Newton by the sporting equipment and fields.

King Ferdinand of Bulgaria reached London this afternoon. King George headed the group of British royalties that welcomed him.

The tribute of his people to Edward the Beloved was given to-day. To-morrow, when the dead monarch will be laid in his sepulchre, the pomp of Kings will overshadow the nation's grief.

The populace had its last opportunity to-day to pass its bier in Westminster Hall. Despite rain and cold, great throngs kept in line the night through. When dawn came a crowd which the police estimated as the largest ever gathered in London was twisting in a monster line five miles long from Westminster through the heart of London, Albert Embankment, doubling back. It was increased at the rate of 100 a minute.

That fewer might be disappointed, it was estimated this afternoon that the doors of Westminster would be kept open till midnight instead of 10 o'clock.

Many Women Overcome.

So great was the crush to-day that many women were overcome. Their removal in ambulances tended to alarm the crowds. The court removed to-day from Buckingham Palace to Windsor, where the final solemn services will be held to-morrow. The removal was accomplished quietly.

This afternoon the vanguard of 30,000 troops that will participate in to-morrow's pageant began to arrive, from colonial and other military centers.

In the squares, parks and streets, bivouacs were established and by midnight to-night London will resemble a city under martial law. Tent cities will be pitched in the parks, where a great host of the army that all the soldiers cannot secure even these accommodations and, while streets were to-day commandeered for their use, traffic being forbidden, they established camps. Preparations were made for fully 15,000 men to sleep in the open.

PENSION BILL PUT OVER FOR ONE YEAR

On motion of Representative Conway of West Roxbury, the House to-day reconsidered its acceptance the vote by which it turned down a bill for a general system of old age pensions and then referred the matter to next year's Legislature.

FORBES PARK, PITTSBURG, May 19.—Still full of fight, the Doves went after the tailed game with the Pirates determined to make the World's champions travel as they never did before to make it three straight in their favor.

That the Doves were ready to spring all kinds of trouble for the champs before the game was over nestled only a review of the game yesterday, when the visitors would have come home in the lead but for the big jump the Pirates got at the breakaway.

Nothing like that was on the card to-day, as Manager Lake was ready to make quick changes in his lineup whenever the Buccaneers showed any prospects of getting too far away to reach.

Manager Clarke was out to tabulate all the wins he could at the expense of the second division teams now, as he figured he would need them when the team began its Eastern invasion.

As a short-order the Doves looked like a good proposition to many of the chance takers, unless Clarke allowed Babe Adams to go in the mound, as the hero of the world's series was the one best bet of the day. Lake was anxious to try a southpaw on the Pirates and had Lefty Mattern rung up if Cecil Ferguson did not appear able to work for the first time this year.

New England is to get every one of the newspapers. They are to settle around Boston, from Providence to Manchester, N. H. More than 5,000 persons welcomed the newcomers. A number of passengers asserted their declarations at the suggestion of the inspectors.

Among the distinguished passengers were Major Sir Hyam Leighton and Lady Leighton of England, aided Leighton served as British attache with the American troops in Cuba during the Spanish war. He was famed in the Soudan.

Among notables were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Tedd, Mr. and Mrs. William V. Kellen of Washington, members of Congressional Party, and Mrs. F. W. Harvey.

Captain Cornell reported that he sighted Gay Head's tower at 3:50 a. m. to-day, and Highland Light at 5:30 a. m. The vessel was then 10 miles southeast. He said: "The coast of the ship's position was brilliantly and appeared twice as large as Venus to the naked eye. I was able to see the head of the comet, but was unable to make out any tail trailing after it."

LAST RITES FOR JAMES GATELY

Business and professional men, politicians and policemen to-day attended the funeral of Petroleum James Gately, who was guardian of the Mayor's gate for eight years and who had assisted City Messenger Leary in quelling disturbances in the Common Council. The services were held at a. NoN. 434 Dudley street, Roxbury, where he died last Monday night after a brief illness. He was appointed a member of the Police Department thirty-eight years ago. There was high mass of requiem at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Dudley street, the celebrant of which was the Rev. William Fagan of Roxbury. The Rev. William Fagan of Roxbury was deacon, the Rev. James Hurley of Lynn, sub-deacon, and the Rev. John Kilton of Brookline, master of ceremonies.

HUNTINGTON AVENUE GROUNDS, May 19.—The White Sox were the second Western team to invade the camp of the Red Sox, and there was big interest in the first game because Hugh Duffy, the famous ball tosser, now manager of the visiting team, was accorded a special celebration by a bunch of enthusiasts from Providence, headed by the Mayor. There was no mistake that they were there especially to give Duffy the right kind of a welcome. Duffy made a bit as manager of the Providence Grays, and they had not forgotten him.

Sliding the two teams up it looked like a clinch for the home warriors, as the White Sox had only won one out of seven games on the eastern trip and the Reds were just primed for another killing after putting two dents in the Tigers, and with Eddie Cicotte going on the slab there was plenty of reason to expect some more advancement by Duffy's speeders.

Duffy had young Cy Young and Doc White dumber up for the fray and his confidence was plainly there.

The Sleachers did not forget Freddie Parent, Little Cy Young and Pat Dougherty when the former Boston players came up for inspection and they got the glad hand. Then there was a delegation present who came especially to see Coldie, the Newton boy, in the game, and the absence of Russell Blackburn, the ex-Providence shortstop, caused disappointment to many. He was on the cripple list.

500 PRETTY IRISH GIRLS ON SAXONIA

The steamship Saxonia of the White Star line arrived to-day and established a new record for speedy medical examination. Practically everybody on shipboard passed.

Of the 1,884 passengers in the second cabin 800 were Irish 4500 of them girls. Ten English, 250 naturalized American citizens, 250 Swedes and 20 Scotch, leaving only 74 passengers to all the other nationalities of Europe.

All the Irish, with one exception, were young, ranging from fourteen years to twenty-two. They were healthy, ruddy looking people and in the best of spirits.

The Irish girls, most of them coming from the north of Ireland, were bright and well dressed for the most part. Few came alone. They were in groups, sent for from this country by friends or relatives. There were a number of prospective brides.

Among the Americans were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Tedd, Mr. and Mrs. William V. Kellen of Washington, members of Congressional Party, and Mrs. F. W. Harvey.

Captain Cornell reported that he sighted Gay Head's tower at 3:50 a. m. to-day, and Highland Light at 5:30 a. m. The vessel was then 10 miles southeast. He said: "The coast of the ship's position was brilliantly and appeared twice as large as Venus to the naked eye. I was able to see the head of the comet, but was unable to make out any tail trailing after it."

NO LEGISLATION ON BONDS PLAN

Governor Draper's inaugural recommendation that the bonds of the Boston Elevated Holding Company be made legal investments for Massachusetts savings banks was to-day wakened from its slumber by the legislative committee on railroads and banks and banking, sitting jointly, and then put back to sleep again with a vote to report that "no legislation is necessary."

The Governor receded from his advocacy of this plan after it had been opposed by the savings banks and by nearly every leader in the Legislature.

The Committee on Railroads will act next Tuesday on the Governor's latest recommendation—that the company be allowed to issue some scrip bonds to bring in enough money to raise money for the development of the Boston & Maine. President Mellen's bill to validate the $121,000,000 capital stock of the New Haven will also be acted on the same day. The preferred stock measure is favored by a majority of the committee.

The Mellen bill is expected to be amended to provide that an investigation of the road's physical and financial condition shall be made first and the validation of stock determined later.

CALLS "BIG BILL" HEARTLESS THIEF

Assistant U. S. District Attorney Denounces "Gang" Which He Declares Aided in Wrecking the Cambridge National City Bank.

William J. ("Big Bill") Keliher was told by George W. Coleman that the money the young bank bookkeeper was giving to Keliher with which to play faro in New York was stolen from the National City Bank of Cambridge, it was charged to-day by William H. Garland, who outlined the case of the government against Keliher for the alleged aiding of Coleman in wrecking the bank, in the Circuit Court.

Keliher and a man named "Jack" urged Coleman to get more money even after he had told them last February that he had taken about all of the money in the bank, Mr. Garland declared.

GIRL ACCOMPANIED COLEMAN ON HIS FLIGHT.

"Get $10,000 more," Mr. Garland said they urged him, and the ride would turn, and he would be able to return to Boston with enough money to square up things.

Coleman saw Keliher and "Jack" on February 18 last, Mr. Garland said, and pleaded with them to get the money back so that he could fix it up with the bank. They did not do it. Keliher gave Coleman $100 to pay the hotel bill of Miss Mamie Hightower and himself and then the couple left for the West, finally reaching the girl's home in Kansas City.

"I ask you," said Mr. Garland right at the beginning of his speech, "to listen to the story of the wrecking of a little national bank through the operations of an heartless a gang of thieves as ever walked the earth. Only one of these is here; that is William J. Keliher."

When Coleman returned and gave himself up to the police, Mr. Garland said, Keliher arranged through Wilson Lockhart to have Lawyer John J. Cronin retained to represent the prisoner.

Since that time the prosecutor declared, Keliher had tried in various ways to seal the lips of Coleman but he had failed and Coleman would tell the whole story on the witness stand and witnesses would be called to corroborate his testimony.

Mysterious Man Named "Jack."

A mysterious man named "Jack" introduced Coleman to Keliher on the Boston Common. Mr. Garland said, and Coleman and Keliher went to New York to play faro last May. Keliher lost, apparently.

CONSPIRACY MADE PLEA IN MERRIAM SUIT

Mrs. Sarah F. Merriam of Malden, the defendant in the Heath alienation suit, declared on the witness stand in Middlesex Superior Civil Court at East Cambridge to-day that there was no intimacy between Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Heath against her.

Mrs. Emma Francis Heath of Malden is suing Mrs. Merriam for $50,000 for alleged alienation of the affections of Nathaniel Heath. Under cross-examination Mrs. Merriam said:

"I forbade Mr. Heath to come to the Hotel Evelyn in the room after the suit was brought, for I believed he was to engage with his wife. The whole thing is a conspiracy from the start.

"Mrs. Heath was very jealous of a Mrs. Anderson, who was formerly housekeeper at the hotel. She wanted me to discharge Mrs. Anderson. I saw that Mrs. Heath was jealous and upset, and I tried to make things pleasant for her."

Mrs. Merriam was asked about the statement by Mrs. Heath that Mrs. Heath had copied letters for her. Mrs. Merriam brought her clenched fist down on the rail of the witness stand and said:

"I would have thought Mrs. Heath would have been afraid lest God strike her dead for telling such a lie."

Later Mrs. Merriam said: "I have heard that Mrs. Heath was very unpopular in the neighborhood."

U. S. GUNBOAT LIFTS BLOCKADE AT BLUEFIELDS

BLUEFIELDS, May 19.—The American gunboat Paducah drove the Government gunboat Venus away from Bluefields port, today and raised the blockade. President Hedrix is now free to appeal to the powers against the United States.

A clash between the American sailors and the Central American was narrowly averted. According to unofficial reports, Generals Asta and Estrada, hastened to the scene of the disturbance and ordered the Paducah delivered to the authorities of vessels seeking to enter the port. Then the Venus withdrew.

FATHER LOSES SUIT OVER BOY'S DEATH

The Supreme Court to-day sustained the Hugh Nawn Construction Company, defendant in a suit brought by Frank A. Norris, whose fourteen-year-old son, Ralph E., was killed by a derrick at Boylston and Paul Gore streets, Jamaica Plain. The plaintiff claimed that the boy was around the derrick by invitation of the company's foreman. The court holds that the foreman was not authorized to issue such an invitation.

SIX HURT IN CRASH OF CARS

Six persons were hurt today when two East Walpole-bound street cars together in a rear-end collision in Washington street, Norwood, in front of the Norwood Press office. Failure of the brakes of the second car is given as the cause of the accident.

The accident occurred shortly after 7:20 today. The cars were going from Forest Hills to East Walpole. The injured are:

Miss Mary Carey of Dedham, Miss E. L. Leane of Roslindale, Miss Mary Hart of Dedham, Miss Ida Bodie of East Dedham, William Meyers of East Dedham and Motorman John Kerr. With the exception of Kerr, all of those who suffered were employes of the Norwood Press.

The cars were bowling along Washington street, when the third car, in charge of Conductor Peter Connor and Motorman Henry Conner, his brother, came to a stop in front of the Norwood Press. The second car was following closely, and the brakes refused to respond to the work of Motorman John Kerr. His Conductor was John Brennen.

The cars came together with great force and the passengers were thrown in every direction.

Miss Carey was carried unconscious to the office of J. Mrs. Almiday nearby, and here the other injured passengers were taken. They were all suffering from shock except Meyers, whose hand was crushed, and Kerr, who received a badly wrenched knee.

Dr. J. C. Murphy of Norwood listened to the improvised hospital at the Cushings. Later John Gifford's automobile was used to take the victims to their homes.

KILLS WIFE, COULDN'T LIVE WITHOUT HER

NEWARK, N. J., May 19.—"I've just killed my wife because I couldn't live without her." With these words, Henry Horney, twenty-two years old, and insanely jealous, walked into police headquarters here to-day and told his way into the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Jones, and before her shot down his wife, who left him several weeks ago. After the shooting Mrs. Horney struggled with the crazed Horney to support her and her baby son.

BOSTON WINS TUNNEL SUIT

By a decision of the Supreme Court to-day, the city of Boston wins its suit against the George N. Talbot estate to recover possession of the building connected with the Washington street tunnel at the corner of Summer street. The court holds that the city had a right to take the entire building through the Transit Commission.

The defendant asserted that the city could take only the basement to be used as a tunnel station.

FUNERAL RITES FOR PATRICK SHEEHAN

The funeral of Patrick Sheehan, a veteran of the Civil War and well-known in Boston business circles, who died last Tuesday after a brief illness, was held to-day from his home, No. 25 Fenno street, Roxbury. There was a high mass of requiem at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Circuit street, celebrated by the Rev. Dennis J. Wheeley, pastor. Burial was in Mount Calvary Cemetery, West Roxbury. Deputations were present from various G. A. R. Posts, Kearsarge Veteran Association, Boston Lodge of Elks and other organizations.

ROOSEVELT IS COMING FOR '80 CLASS REUNION

Former President Roosevelt is to be the guest of Harvard College, his mates in the class of 1880 and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge during the week of June 27. He is coming here for the Harvard commencement, where nothing unusual is planned for him; but he is coming also for the thirtieth anniversary reunion of his class, at which there will be more fun for him.

One hundred boys, with very few exceptions all over fifty years old, will make up the class party. Theodore Roosevelt, not ex-President Roosevelt, will be one of them. They will spend the day before commencement in simple jollification, a little outing, a dinner and then perhaps some song. The next day they will march in the college exercises.

The first day of the celebration, June 27, the party will go to the Hoosic-Whistick Club in Milton for a day's outing. Just what will happen there is not known. John Woodbury, secretary of the Metropolitan Park Commission and secretary of the class, said today that the plan had not been completed.

"Will you have some athletic sports for the former President?" he was asked.

"Well, we may have some tennis and some golf. We are getting pretty old now, and I guess we won't have anything as strenuous as baseball. We are no longer boys. It is thirty years since we got out."

In the evening the class banquet will be held at the Algonquin Club.

Mr. Woodbury is making the arrangements. Others on the committee are: President Howard Townsend, New York; Fred H. Allen, New York; Dr. Eugene Fuller, New York, and Richard Saltonstall of Boston.

Roosevelt Reviewing Troops In Sham Battle

While Mr. Roosevelt was in Paris he expressed a wish to see the formations and tactics of the French Army; the Governor of Paris thereupon organized a miniature manoeuvre at Vincennes. A part of the garrison was detailed for the exercise, and was divided into two sections, each under the command of a colonel. Section A was supposed to hold a position around the stands on the Vincennes race course, and section B, partly on foot and partly on horseback, with three batteries of artillery of four field guns each, represented the attacking force. Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Bacon both got on horseback to watch the operation. They were escorted by the Military Governor of Paris, General Dalstein, to a point where they had a good view, and he explained to them the course of the operations.

NOW, WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT THIS?

The selectmen of Hyde Park have cut off a chance to obtain ice cream Sunday by refusing victuallers' licenses to the proprietors of places where hitherto it has been possible to be served, not only ice cream but soft drinks, confectionery and cigars. The selectmen declare their action is founded on the refusal of the voters to accept an act at a recent town meeting making it possible for such stores to be kept open legally on Sundays.

EMERY RETURNS TO LICENSING BOARD

Governor Draper reappointed Fred A. Emery of Ward 21 as a member of the Boston Licensing Board. The appointment is for a six-year term, expiring in 1916. Mr. Emery was one of the original members of the commission, having been appointed to the board by Governor Curtis Guild in 1907.

KILLED SELF IN CLUB HOUSE

FALL RIVER, May 19.—John T. Shakeshaft, forty seven years old, residing at No. 285 Hefford street, and having a wife and three children in Blackburn, England, committed suicide by inhaling illuminating gas at the rooms of the Good Will Social Club on Covel street.

COW DERAILS TRAIN; ENGINEER KILLED

DE WITT, Mo., May 19.—A Wabash fast passenger train, drawn by two locomotives, struck a cow on a curve and in a wreck that followed one engineer was fatally injured and three trainmen were seriously hurt.

A score of passengers suffered slight injuries.

BOSTON PAYS BIG BATH BILL

By a vote of seventy-nine to thirty-eight, the House of Representatives saddled on the city of Boston a bill of $15,500 for a Somerville bath house. Somerville itself will pay about $1000. The total expense will be $25,000. The remaining $8,500 will be divided among the other cities and towns in the Metropolitan district.

The advocates of the bill to make Boston's tax burden heavier by $15,500 refused even to grant the request of the opposition for a roll-call so that the members might go on record. The Somerville members, of course, favored the bill. Representative Keene, an avowed candidate for Mayor of Somerville next year, Representative Conwell, also of Somerville, and Representative Brown of Medford, led the fight for the bill. Representative William H. O'Brien and Conway of Boston, and Chairman White of Brookline, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, fought against it.

IS ARRESTED AS A CHECK FORGER

George E. McDonald, twenty-two years old, of Brookfield, was arrested by Inspectors Sheehan and Gaddis from police headquarters to-day, at the Columbian Shawmut Bank, charged with uttering and forging a check for $900.

The check was made payable to George T. Sheridan, being signed by Cornelius McGillicuddy of Brookfield. McGillicuddy is no other than Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics. McDonald admitted that his name was not Sheridan, but insisted that Connie Mack had sent him the check just the same.

GIRL GIVEN COLLEGE POST AS A PASTOR

Miss Helen F. Noon of Everett, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Alfred Noon, has been appointed the first woman pastor to minister to the religious needs of college girls and men. Next week she will take up her duties as assistant to the Rev. James C. Baker of Trinity Church, Urbana, Ill., where the State University of Illinois is located.

Miss Noon will devote all her time to religious work among the students. She will organize classes and conduct services. There are 4,000 students at the University, of whom 30 per cent. are Methodists, and it is among the latter especially that she will labor.

To take her new position Miss Noon resigned a lucrative position as secretary to the dean of the University of Illinois. She went to that position immediately after graduating from Simmons College. Previous to her college work she was graduated from Everett High School in the class of 1905. She was prominent in church work in her home city. Her father is one of the best known temperance workers in the State.

BATES IS FIGHTING ALLOPATHIC TRUST

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Ex-Governor John L. Bates appears before the Senate committee on public health to-day in opposition to the bill to create a national department of public health.

The National League of Medical Freedom claims that the bill is in the interest of allopathic and does not recognize osteopathic or other medical schools of Christian Scientists, and for that reason is an allopathic "trust."

'PHONE RATES STIR DEDHAM

Opposition to the change in telephone rates proposed in the so-called Jackson report to the Highway Commission "in the interest of the people," has been begun by the Dedham Business Men's Association.

Following a unanimous vote of the association and Board of Trade, petitions against the report are not being circulated among the people, and the matter will be fought out before the commission. The committee chosen to represent the business men is: Thomas P. Murray, town treasurer; Dr. G. J. Hurley of the School Committee; Erastus Worthington, George Stearns, Laurence B. Darling, Gordon and Robert Hamilton.

The biggest objection to the plan, which the present residence at $4 a month, gives the subscriber a chance with free service, the company gives the people only six exchanges, limited calls, and would require prepayment for each of the other six.

Stops Itching at Once

Quite recently a chemist formulated a compound which possesses soothing and curative properties that when applied, it stops the itching of eczema and similar diseases immediately. Sufferers who use it are amazed at the rapidity of the relief which follows its use. The skin heals in an astonishingly short time, and all traces of the disease are eradicated. The name of this new remedy is Cadum, and it is sold by all druggists for 10c. and 25c. a box. It is also remarkably effective when used for acne, herpes, pimples, blackheads, psoriasis, itching piles, tetter, salt rheum and skin diseases, generally. A 10c. box will verify all these statements.

$32,000 IS STOLEN FROM EXPRESS CO.

OIL CITY, Pa., May 19.—Thirty-two thousand dollars was stolen from the office of the Adams Express Company early to-day. The theft is one of the most mysterious crimes of the kind committed in Pennsylvania in years. Not a clue was left by the robbers.

The money belonged to the Pennsylvania railroad and was taken from the office in the absence of Night Manager Truby. He left the office unguarded for a few minutes about 4 a. m. When he returned there was no trace of the money. The theft had evidently been planned carefully by practised criminals. It is believed that they kept a careful watch on the office for hours, possibly for days, till the opportune moment arrived. More than a hundred detectives took up the case within a short time.

A close investigation of the neighborhood of the office brought to light no clew that would aid the searchers. How the robbers escaped could not be determined with a high degree of certainty. While some of the detectives are inclined to believe that they got away disguised as firemen on a freight train, the search in the main is being conducted with the idea that a resident or residents of the town are guilty.

A report received here sent the detectives scurrying on the possibility of the robbers having escaped by auto. A speeding car was located not far distant, and going out of town not long after the robbery.

A dragnet was to-day thrown over Pennsylvania from one end to the other and the large cities notified of the robbery.

The money was in three bags. The exact total was $32,024.44. It had been turned over to the day agent yesterday by the agent of Philadelphia, who arrived on the day car of the Pennsylvania road, when he was through paying the money to Buffalo and Allegheny division, and later turned over to Truby. The money was consigned to the treasurer at Philadelphia.

DENMAN THOMPSON NOW GRANDFATHER

WEST SWANZEY, N. H., May 19.—Another Henry Denman Thompson has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Thompson in the village, weighing two pounds. Grandpa Denman Thompson of "Old Homestead" fame is very much pleased as this is the first grandson bearing the Thompson name. The Thompsons are stopping at their homes in this village, as the "Old Homestead" is closed during the Summer months. Franklin Thompson is the manager of the company, while his wife took one of the leading parts in the production during the past season.

GOODNOW FOUNDRY WORKERS ON STRIKE

PITCHBURG, May 19.—Twenty men employed at the L. H. Goodnow Company Foundry went on strike to-day, following the refusal of the proprietors to grant the men's demand for $2.50, instead of the $2.75 asked for by the moulders' union. The Fitchburg Foundry Company, Union Machine Company, and Union Foundry Company have refused the demands made by the men's union, and their employees remain at work.

WOMAN CHOPS DOWN NEIGHBOR'S FENCE

ATTLEBORO, May 19.—The erection of a fence between her property and that of a neighbor not meeting with her approval, Mrs. James Starkey of Pleasant street chopped down the proposed barrier as fast as a gang of carpenters could put it up. The result, the owner next door to H. McCambridge, called a truce, and now a survey of the land will be made.

CORNELIA GOVE, WHO IS ACCUSED OF MILL ATTACK

CORNELIA M. GOVE

GIRL STRIKERS' LEADER BEFORE LYNN JUSTICE

LYNN, May 19.—Several girl strikers and strike-breakers were in the Police Court to-day, before Judge Loumis, when the case of Miss Cornelia Gove was called.

Miss Gove, who is about thirty-four years of age, is charged with assault and battery in two counts.

Miss Gove's attorney, Alderman Walter W. Pine, had the case continued to prepare a defence. A plea of not guilty is to be entered. Other prosecutions are promised.

For over a month the girls connected with the Watson shoe factory have been on strike, because two of their number had been discharged. They are members of the Buttonhole Operators' Union.

In court to-day, besides the girls were their well-known lunch vendors and Business Agent Charles Murray of the girls' union.

Miss Gove is not connected with the Watson factory, but the strike-breakers say that she has been the leader of the strikers and that she has led them in all tacks on the girls at work. Miss Gove is charged with assault and battery on Miss May Hossford and Miss Rosy Jackson.

Mrs. Carrie Jennings, Miss Minerva Curtigg and Miss Hattie Maithuse say they were chased from the factory by the strikers, led by Miss Gove, on Monday and Tuesday evenings. Ruby Jackson on Tuesday evening took refuge in the police station and escaped through the rear door.

Miss Hossford was chased to her home on Monday night after work. She says that Miss Gove began her handling of striking at her. Miss Gove says she wielded the handbag defending herself from Miss Hossford, whom she threatened with a counter suit of assault and battery.

IRISH LEAGUES CONVENE TO-NIGHT

Boston Central branch, United Irish League of America, will meet this evening at the American House. An address will be delivered by a member of the branch on "John Redmond, the Man of the Hour," and Ex-Mayor Augustine J. Daly of Cambridge will preside.

BOSTON GIRLS MAD AT WHAT CARNEGIE SAID

"Are Western girls nicer than Eastern ones?"

That's the plaintive, pathetic wail of Boston girls and that's the pathetic plaintive question that Boston men are being asked by every girl they meet.

Andrew Carnegie, steel magnate and giver of many libraries to many towns, is at the bottom of the trouble.

"The finest girls in the country are living in the West," Mr. Carnegie has declared. "Western girls have twice as much snap as Eastern ones."

He said that—he did—and then they pulled the gang plank in and Andrew Carnegie pulled out to sea away from the walls and the lines of homes, rather than the ballroom. That's the sort of girl I like and it's what I told the boys at Pittsburg Technical schools, when addressing them as to what sort of girls they should marry!"

There aren't any obstacles to success to-day. There's the very best chance for plain young and women to succeed. The Western girls are the ones getting the matter a lot of thought and I'm glad they're ever very carefully. There's no work finer or more profitable in the world to-day.

"The stage? Ugh! Whenever I heard of a girl who's going on the stage—be a prima donna or anything—I—ugh!

"Does being a librarian pay well?" asked the interviewer.

Says He Is Misquoted.

"Well," responded the millionaire, "you can't get hold of ability by offering high wages. You can't make people more competent by paying them more. Ability and pay have very little to do with each other.

"I've been very much misunderstood about my theory that a man should die poor, what I meant was that a man ought to die supporting his family, but never add he should die a pauper. I said he shouldn't die a millionaire."

REPORT BATONYI AGAIN MARRIED

NEW YORK, May 19.—In the wake of the recent arrival of Aurel Batonyi from Europe on the steamer Kaiserin Auguste Victoria come two stories bound to interest and excite the society set in which the handsome ship boy moved.

Report No. 1, Aurel Batonyi divorced husband of Mrs. Burke-Roche was secretly married to Countess Pulszky Kinsky in Paris during Easter week.

Report No. 2, Batonyi's father recently died in Hungary, leaving an estate of $3,000,000 which is to become his after the death of his mother. He gives up his countess and relinquishes claims to American girl.

DECLARE REVERE COTTAGES MENACE

In Revere Town Hall a preliminary hearing was held in relation to the building of cottages on the ocean front on marsh land, and a large number including several women were present who had purchased land and erected cottages on Oak Island grove. The Board of Health contended that the building of a large number of Summer houses in the marshy district of the city being extremely low, would be a menace to the public health, and protested against the permits to build any more without a permit from the Board of Health. It was pointed out that some 140 lots of land had been already sold and over 40 cottages built on the Oak Island grove lot remained unsold.

HARVARD GETS USE OF BIG PARK

Harvard University has been granted the use of Corbin Park, a large forest reservation in the south of New Hampshire, for the use of the Harvard School of Forestry. The tract, which contains over 200 acres, has for some years been under careful management of forestry methods and offers an excellent opportunity for practising the rougher methods used in unexplained country.

Through the courtesy of the owners, the second-year students of forestry will go to the park this month for the first field work.

LODGE WARNING FOR SURVEYOR BOOMERS

Senator Lodge has sent word from Washington that no more boomers of candidates for the surveyorship are wanted.

The warning is the result of the disposition of supporters of numerous candidates to press their cases at headquarters. The particular visit which caused this protest was that of Senators Hollman and Crane of Lynn, who went to the State House ago in the interest of Howell Crossy, and the intimation that a delegation in favor of Frederick Graves of the city committee and another in favor of ex-Speaker John N. Cole were about to start.

MUTT AND JEFF IN "CHICKEN REEL"

George Barker of No. 113 Dudley street, Roxbury, well-known as a teacher of the mandolin and violin has composed a new piece of music called "Chicken Reel," in which he represents Mutt of the Mutt and Jeff series of pictures, playing a violin with Jeff and Mutt's wife in a rocking chair near by. To the ragtime of Mutt's music, three Spring chickens are walking.

NEW ENGLAND'S GREAT CASH HOUSE

Our Friday Three-Hour Sales

AND THE COMET DID NOT harm us! No such trifle as the switch of a comet's tail could disturb the staid old earth, which keeps serenely on her way. Halley's fiery roamer is an old celestial visitor, always well behaved, and has ever shown a disposition to "make friends" with us. Its calls are infrequent, but regular. The Three-Hour Sales are much more frequent and just regular, and while not so old as the comet they have yet "made friends" with the purchasing public for many years. The brilliancy of their success is in low prices, not in vapor.

Legal Stamps

Remember that Legal Stamps represent a discount of 2½ percent on your purchases, and that we give double stamps every morning. $2.50 in merchandise checks was given in exchange for every filled Legal Stamp Book.

SIX BISHOPS CONSECRATED AT ST. PAUL

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 19.—With solemn ceremonial unprecedented in the history of the Catholic Church in America, six priests were to-day consecrated bishops in the little chapel of the Catholic Theological Seminary in this city.

Mgr. Falconio and Archbishop Ireland, in their robes of office, invested the clergy with the powers granted them by the pontiff of the Roman Church. Those who became bishops to-day were: Rev. Father John J. Lawler, now rector of the cathedral, auxiliary bishop of St. Paul; Rev. Vincent Wehrle, bishop of Bismarck, N. D.; Rev. Patrick Richard Heffron, bishop of Winona; Rev. Timothy Corbett, bishop of Crookston, Minn.; Rev. Joseph Busch, bishop of Lead, S. D.; Rev. James O'Reilly, bishop of Fargo, N. D.

The little chapel was filled to overflowing with prelates of the church who gathered from the West for the ceremony. Besides these there were present the leaders of the church in St. Paul, Minneapolis and other western cities. For two months preparations for to-day's event had been going on. The ceremony was made impressive by the display of gorgeousness in the simple chapel, which was banked with flowers, and bedecked with banners and papal flags.

The soft of the vessels and candlesticks combined brilliantly with the immaculate linen of the altar and the robes of the prelates. Two hours before the appointed time the chapel was thronged with holders of the coveted admission cards.

SEARS ESTATE MUST PAY $44,000 TAX

Assessment of a tax of $44,000 imposed by the Saltair assessors on Frederick R. Sears and other executors of the will of Frederick R. Sears is refused in a decision of the Supreme Court.

The assessors had taken the valuation as fixed by the Probate Court inventory, on December 31, 1908, the executors made a sworn statement that before May 1, 1908, they had paid over most of the estate to those entitled to it. The assessors declined to grant an abatement. The executors then appealed to the Superior Court, the decision of which the Supreme Court sustains.

CONVERT WORLD 3 SHIPS CRASH: SANDFORD PLAN ONE GOES DOWN

SOUTH FREEPORT, Me., May 19.—A chain of missions extending from Greenland to Cape Horn is the ambitious project, outlined by Frank W. Sandford, leader of the Holy Ghost and Us Society, in an interview, time breaking the silence which he has maintained concerning his plans since his recent return from the Holy Land.

Mr. Sanford said the return of the members of the society who have been conducting a mission in the Holy Land was only temporary, and that the mission would be reestablished later. It is the policy of the society, he said, to call together its workers at certain intervals in order "to preserve our unity of purpose and receive the spiritual uplift which comes from association with those devoted to the same high objective—the speedy evangelization of this world."

GRENFELL VESSEL HERE FOR FOOD

The little schooner Lora Doone, the supply ship for Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell in the famous missionary among the Labrador fishermen, is here from Bay of Roberts, N. F., to take back supplies for Dr. Grenfell his wife and others in the northern mission in Labrador. The schooner will remain here ten days.

NORTH SYDNEY, C. B., May 19.—The Government steamer Zaldee lies sunk in this harbor, the Reid Newfoundland Company's steamer Invermore, which had eighty passengers aboard, has a gaping hole in her bow and the French steam trawler Beluga is much damaged as a result of a double collision off Lloyd's Cove.

The Invermore, which was bound from North Sydney to Port au Basque, N. F., crashed into the Beluga, striking the trawler fairly on the port bow, cutting her from the guard rail to the water-line, while her bow plates were torn off or twisted out of shape, leaving a huge opening in the bow.

As the steamers parted, both headed for North Sydney, the Beluga's hold being full of water. Her captain sent out a call and in steering his boat toward the terminal wharf the Beluga crushed the Zaldee against the structure, smashing her almost instantly.

Health and Beauty Queries

By MRS. MAE MARTYN.

Madge: Very frequently a dark, coarse-looking complexion comes from the failure of soap and water to remove all dirt from the pores of the skin. If you will dissolve an ounce of almonds in an ounce of cold water, then add two teaspoonfuls glycerine, stir and allow to stand a few hours, you will have a splendid cream to belly for cleaning up your skin. This cream is generously used will not only tend to grow on the face. I find it excellent for softening and smoothing skin and good for reducing the size of large pores. It is fine for massaging to remove wrinkles and if you will use it regularly you will soon have a charming, velvety complexion.

A. H. C.: You say you need dejatone, but simpler to remove superfluous hair from your face and forearms, but that it has grown again very thick and coarse. This is the experience of many who have used dejatone. One application is not always sufficient to permanently remove the annoying hair. Mix a little dejatone with enough water to make a paste and cover with it the skin from which you wish to remove the hair. Let it remain two or three minutes; then wipe off and wash with warm water. This second application will be effective and the hairs will not return.

Bernice E.: Your hair will never look its best and be easy to do up long as you continue to shampoo with soap. The alkali in soap and most powdered shampoos eats the very life out of your hair, makes it fuzzy and brittle and causes those faded, discolored streaks you speak of. Most shampoos simply remove the oil and dirt from the hair, but do not take out the dirt from the hair, which often causes the itching scalp, dandruff and finally dead, falling hair with split ends. If you will shampoo your hair with a teaspoonful of cantbros dissolved in a cup of hot water you will find it most delightful. This will not produced a rich, creamy lather that cleanses thoroughly, but gently and leaves the hair soft, fluffy and the scalp feeling fresh. This is by far the best shampoo I've ever tried, and my friends, to whom I have recommended it, tell me it is simply splendid.

"Chorus Lady": There is nothing better for sore, tired and aching feet than putting them in a basin of warm water in which you have dissolved two teaspoonfuls of phrosol. This treatment is better than foot powder, for it draws up the sores and draws out the waste matter which foot powder immediately and the soreness and swelling disappear. Rinse one of thrown with toughen and harden your feet.

Jane R.: Your sallow, pimply complexion comes from impure blood. You should not neglect this any longer. Make a good system tonic and blood purifier by dissolving one-half cup sugar and one ounce karbone in one-half pint alcohol, adding enough water to make a full quart; then take a teaspoonful before each meal and it will clear up your face and give it color and clearness. There is nothing that will make quite such a bone-made tonic for the system as sugar, karbone, putting the stomach and liver in order and for blood purifier.

Arline: If you find face powder so unsatisfactory to use as warm weather approaches, since it seems to clog up the pores of the skin, try a lotion made by dissolving one ounce of sporatia in a pint of witch hazel, adding two teaspoonfuls glycerine. This lotion is inexpensive and when applied to your face and arms will not show as does face powder. It will free the complexion from freckles, tan and sunburn and make any shiny surface, making skin beautiful by giving it a youthful, velvety appearance. It will not injure the most delicate skin and is the best complexion beautifier I have ever seen.

Tired Eyes: Where your eyes appear inflamed and constantly have that tired, overworked feeling, you should look to your health, treating them with good, strengthening tonic. Get an ounce of eyetonic, dissolve it in a half pint of water, and drop a few drops in each eye at night. Although a very simple remedy, you will find it very helpful to your sight and eyes, but is very soothing. I find it excellent for relieving eye pain and weak, watery eyes and it is a great aid to sight.

R. L.: The rate at which you have taken off flesh is good and should not alarm you. You can easily remove fat without injury by a harmless reducer, from four tablespoonfuls dissolved in 1½ pints hot water, and taking a tablespoonful before each meal. This should remove superfluous flesh in a few weeks. It is in no way injurious and does not leave the skin flabby and wrinkled.

R. R. E.: The only hair tonic I know which will really destroy the dandruff in your scalp, stop your hair from falling, make the brittleness and dryness of your scalp in a healthy condition is one you can make yourself. Simply get an ounce of quinonia and dissolve it in a half pint of alcohol, then add one-half pint cold water. It is a waste of money to buy most hair tonics as they do no good, but by using this one you will notice a week, rubbing it into the roots of your hair, you will be delighted to see how bright and healthy your hair will soon become. This quinine is also a fine dressing for the hair and will not cause it to become stringy, dull or matted as most tonics do.

BIGNEY TALKS OF LIVING COST

ATTLEBORO, May 19.—Colonel S. O. Bigney, former member of the Governor's Council, in an address to the Board of Trade, declared the exodus from the farm and the shorter working day were contributing causes of the high cost of living. At the same meeting the Rev. J. Lee Mitchell of the Congregational Church traced the high cost of living in part to "the useless expenditure on rum and battleships."

Bigney declared the farm was formerly looked upon to produce a great number of men and leaders, but that the exodus from farming to professional life now makes it necessary for the city to contribute good men to the country. Giving farming the rank of a profession and making it socially attractive he discussed as methods of hastening this return to the soil. He suggested also that Canada's example be followed in turning the tide of immigrants away from the cities.

GRANTED DIPLOMA AFTER 32 YEARS

After a delay of thirty-two years, Charles Duza Burrage, a wealthy attorney of Boston, and high in Masonic circles of Massachusetts, has been graduated from the University of California with the degree of bachelor of arts. Burrage was denied a diploma because he played practical jokes on the professor of French. His fellows of the class of '78 labored incessantly in his behalf and secured a diploma for him.

GIRL DRUGGED: MAN IS HELD

Fifteen-year-old Lottie Davis, who the police say lives on Corning street, South End, and who was the victim of knock-out drops, is to-day recovering from the effects of the poison at the City Hospital.

Her escort a man whose name the police refuse to give, is under arrest at the Back Bay police station. He is booked as a suspicious person, but a more serious charge is likely to be lodged against him when the police finish their investigation.

The circumstances surrounding the poisoning of the girl are buried in mystery and the police are bending every effort to clear the matter up.

The girl was found unconscious on a bench in the Public Garden, with her escort trying to resuscitate her.

DOUBLE LEGAL STAMPS MORNINGS

MAYOR OF LAWRENCE, IN COURT ON BRIBE CHARGE, PREDICTS NEW SENSATION

NEWBURYPORT, May 19.—Mayor William P. White of Lawrence, who was arraigned to-day with two former aldermen of his city and seven other prominent citizens on charges of conspiracy to bribe, bribery and larceny, created a sensation in the Superior Criminal Court before Judge Fox when brought in to plead today.

Samuel Kress, one of the men under indictment, did not answer when his name was called by the clerk. After a short conference with Judge Fox, he was defaulted and a capias was issued for his appearance.

Mayor White appeared without counsel, and almost as soon as he entered the court, immediately after shouting at the top of his voice: "Positively not guilty!" turned and walked toward the bench, and made a speech, demanding a speedy trial. He declared that if Judge Fox would set a time in order to get a trial to-day he would appeal to the Governor to save the "fair name of the city of Lawrence."

Named With the Mayor.

In the first two indictments with the Mayor, charging conspiracy to bribe in two cases, were former Alderman Matthew Burns, former Aldermen Xavier A. Lemoine, George H. Smart, Thomas A. Keegan and Ernest Duke. All these pleaded not guilty with the Mayor.

"May somebody speak for me?" Mayor White as he walked up toward Judge Fox, and stood before the bar. He was ordered to reply White launched into a speech.

"As to the indictments, the first one shouted White, "since I have no rights in these proceedings, have no counsel and may have to try this case myself, I want a speedy trial. I demand a speedy trial. If I am not given a speedy trial I shall go to the Governor and see if it can't be brought about by these means."

Pleads for City's Name.

"These indictments are nothing more than should be charged against certain county officials. They don't vent the real name of the city of Lawrence dragged in the mire, as it has been by this contrived and publicity. I want to stand before my people exonerated.

"There is a certain county official who sits here and laughs—that is the prosecuting officer.

Probation Officer William Kimball was in court, and inquiry as to whether process to the officer was lost, as White's shout died down.

"Can I have a copy of the indictment," asked White.

Clerk Hamilton complied with the request.

The Chief James A. Hamilton, charged with bribery in nine counts and conspiracy to bribe, together with ex-Aldermen Burns, Lemoine, William H. Molloy, and Fred W. Kenniston, pleaded not guilty, as did the others named.

Others Plead Not Guilty.

John J. Cummings, a liquor dealer, charged with conspiracy in the same series of indictments, and Mayor's Secretary Matthew Delray Ripon, also charged with larceny from the city, pleaded not guilty.

The investigation that resulted in the arrests opened in the Superior court February 1.

Four women were witnesses in the investigation. They were Mrs. Harriet Newton, one of Methuen's richest widows and a friend of Chief Hamilton; Mrs. Louis H. Beatty, Mary Hopkins and Miss Lane.

The awarding to the Gatewell company of the contracts for the fire alarm system, the putting of Reach tires on the lifting of automobiles for personal use, the purchase of fire apparatus and supplies and other municipal affairs were probed.

Man in Coffin Saw Bribe.

One of the sensational rumors of the probe was one which alleged that one Ernest Dube, concealed in a coffin in ex-Alderman Legendre's undertaking parlors, saw one of the defendants pass a sum of money to Alderman Legendre, a bribe to keep the latter away from the council meeting at which it was proposed to oust Chief Hamilton. Dube, it is said, overheard the plot and attended the meeting with a bodyguard.

Most of the indictments, it is alleged, have to do with the appointment of Chief Engineer Hamilton as head of the fire department and the subsequent alleged attempt to oust him. The charge against the chief himself and Alderman Burns is said to be in connection with both fire purchases of the city.

Mayor White's part was in the alleged effort to depose Chief Hamilton and Thomas Keegan, George R. Smart, Fred Koschitzky and Ernest Dube were similarly associated to the jury's finding, wisdom of Molsom it is alleged, was a party to the selection of the chief for the fire department head.

Ex-Alderman Legendre is charged with having sought a bribe for his indorsement of a freight line franchise.

The rise of Mayor White into local prominence has been little short of phenomenal. He ran in 1908 for Mayor on the Independent ticket, and was defeated by a narrow margin. In 1909 he essayed the contest again, this time on the Republican ticket, and was swept into office with one of the largest majorities in the history of the city.

In November, despite the excitement, the graft charges already made against his administration had escalated, he was re-elected, although practically all the members of the previous city administration slated for re-election, were defeated.

He is a native of Lawrence and was educated in its public schools. He is well known as a horseman and for many years has been the city's most prominent auctioneer. He was at one time milk inspector and in previous years served on the Board of Aldermen.

Other Charges Against White.

Mayor White was deposed from the office of milk inspector of Lawrence after public inquiry to examine many from milk men when he had found with milk below standard. He paid a fine of $300 as well as losing his office.

When Inaugurated Mayor in 1909, he was under indictment with his private secretary, Mariano Le Grey Hipon, on a charge of extorting money from liquor dealers. They were bound over in the police court by Judge J. J. Mahoney upon this extortion charge prior to the Grand Jury indictment.

The evidence showed that bottled liquors were bought on Sundays from the hotel keepers of Lawrence and the hotel keepers were threatened with arrest unless they contributed to a political organization formed by White. They complied at first, but when successive demands were made, the police were called in and the arrest of White and Hipon followed.

When White became Mayor he removed the city marshal who had arrested him, and upon the recommendation of the new chief of police, the indictments for extortion against himself and his private secretary were not pressed by the district attorney.

TO EXPURGATE BANK REPORT

The report of the Southbridge Savings Bank investigating committee has been withdrawn temporarily from circulation. As printed, it was unexpurgated. Later it will appear in expurgated form, representing the cooler second thought of the committee members.

The report as originally drawn placed the blame for conditions at Southbridge on the "bank department of the Commonwealth, the auditing committees and the trustees of the institution," with, in conclusion, the words, "the degree of negligence being in the order named."

In the copies of the report, handed to the newspapers, a number of holes in the paper represented the last sentence, as the committee in executive session decided that it did not mean to say so much.

FROST BLIGHT ON CRANBERRY CROP

HARWICH, May 19.—Apple and cranberry growers all over Cape Cod fear that both these crops will be very small this season, from present prospects. They say that the recent heavy frosts did a great deal of damage to the fruit buds, and just begun to open at that time. The damage to the cranberry crop cannot be accurately estimated for at least a month yet, but the experienced growers find among the blossoms on their bogs thousands of tiny blossoms which have been blackened by the severe frosts.

DEDHAM M. C. O. F. MAYPOLE DANCE

Little Miss Alice Mulkern is to be the May Queen at the May Festival to be held to-morrow evening, under the auspices of Magdalen Court, M. C. O. F., in Memorial Hall, Dedham. Twenty-five other little girls all dressed in white, will dance the May pole dance, at the conclusion of which the May Queen will be crowned.

The entire program will be given by children, and will include musical selections, solo dances and recitations. Among those who will take part are May Corcoran, Frances Herrick, Mary Hascall, Margaret Flynn, Ida Decosta, Rose Keenan, Margaret Murray, Frank Mulkern, Florence Metcalfe, Anna Hanlon, and Master Will Flaherty.

BOSTON GIRL DENIES GOULD ENGAGEMENT

LONDON, May 19.—Miss Beatrice Van Brunner of Boston, who was reported by cable to-day from Paris to be on the eve of an engagement to marry Jay Gould, second of George Gould, today denied that such an arrangement existed. "There is not and never has been any reason to connect my name with that of Mr. Jay Gould," she said. "I am astonished that there is any basis for the Paris report."

CRAWFORD HOUSE HEAD WAITER DEAD

Charles E. Curtis, for fifteen years night head waiter at the Crawford House, is dead at the Boothby Hospital. He was fifty-four years old, and leaves four daughters and a son, who resides at No. 69 Bolsover street, Jamaica Plain.

HUNT FIREBUG AFTER 2 FIRES

The State Fire Marshal's office today began an investigation of two fires of suspicious origin, discovered on the second and third floors of the house at No. 511 Dorchester avenue, South Boston, within an hour of each other. The early discovery of each fire probably prevented a serious blaze and possible loss of life, for the building is occupied by six families and is a three-story wooden structure.

About 9.45 o'clock last night Engine No. 33 was summoned on a still alarm to the house, where there was a fire on the second floor. After a few minutes' work the blaze was extinguished. This portion of the building is occupied by Albert Mc-Eland and the loss was placed at $100.

An hour later, or just as members of the family of James Cook was returning home, fire broke out in the hallway of the third floor. Again Engine 33 was summoned and the firemen decided that an investigation should be made.

The theory that from the way the smoke formed, oil must have been sprinkled on the flooring and the walls. Evidences of straw being carried into the entryways were also found.

NEW ORLEANS CLUB BUYS BOATS HERE

Five Swampscott type dories have been ordered by the Southern Yacht Club of New Orleans, where it is proposed to establish a class for the boats which are identical and the question of supremacy will be simply one of seamanship. These boats of Massachusetts manufacture are twenty-one feet over all, six feet beam, with cockpit about 8x5 feet. The rig is mainsail and jib, and with all equipment and furnishing the boat weighs but 680 pounds.

CENSUS TAKER TRACKS MAN

WORCESTER, May 19.—You can't beat Herbert M. Silke, assistant Worcester Superintendent of Census Enumerators. Silke says he has found in the end, even if he has to find him in the grave.

"Silke" has been bothered because he couldn't find George F. Worcester of No. 8, Flint street.

"It's queer," reflected "Silke," "that I can't find Worcester in Worcester."

Then the inspiration came to the puzzled statistician that the name George F. Worcester charged with forgery, "Silke" hustled to the county jail and located his long-sought man through the bars of the cell door.

Worcester was arrested in Gardner. He was visited there on the complaint of Mrs. Catherine Brosnan, who said she became a victim of the ruse by which he gained entrance yesterday. Police Chief Sisty of Gardner identified Worcester from the picture of the arrested man. Worcester was brought back here by Chief Sisty and Officer Hall.

TEAMSTER FREED IN DEATH CASE

Robert G. Graham, a furniture mover and expressman, was discharged on instruction by Judge Bruce in the Malden District Court to-day when arraigned on the charge of manslaughter because a wagon he owned and was on at the time, ran over and killed four-year-old James E. Peach in that city on May 10. Evidence showed that the child tried to jump onto the side of the wagon and fell under a rear wheel.

Diabetes Cured

And Health and Strength Restored After Well-Known Minister Had Been Given Up to Die by His Doctors.

The Rev. Alvin H. Morton of Sand Point, Idaho, who experienced this remarkable cure, recently wrote as follows:

"It gives me pleasure to say that when I had diabetes and was given up by all the doctors of our town (Stewart, Ia.) who said I could not live, I was advised to try a bottle of WARNER'S SAFE DIABETES CURE. I found it helped me, and ordered a half dozen bottles more until I became perfectly well. I have since taken two physical examinations and have been pronounced O. K. I am now a perfectly well man and can recommend your remedies to any and all that need help along that line."

There is no case of diabetes that Warner's Safe Diabetes Cure will not relieve immediately. We receive thousands of voluntary testimonials like the above from our patients, who cannot say enough in praise of Warner's Safe Remedies, which have cured them of their kidney, liver, bladder and blood troubles.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE, for the kidneys, bladder and blood, is put up in two sizes and is sold by all druggists at 50c. and $1.00 a bottle. Warner's Safe Diabetes Cure for diabetes, is sold at $1.25 a bottle and will be sent direct, express prepaid, on receipt of price. If you cannot get it at your druggist; accept no substitute; and Warner's Safe Pills, for constipation and biliousness, is sold at 25 cents a package.

These remedies are purely vegetable, being made from the fresh juices of plants and medicinal roots, gathered at the propper season in the remotest quarters of the globe and compounded by men skilled in botany and chemistry.

To convince every sufferer from diabetes that WARNER'S SAFE DIABETES CURE will absolutely cure them, a sample bottle and also a sample bottle of Warner's Safe Cure for kidneys, liver, bladder and blood and sample box of Warner's Safe Pills will be sent FREE (or use postage prepaid, to any one who will write WARNER'S SAFE CURE CO., Rochester, N. Y., and mention having seen this liberal offer in the Boston Daily American.

SMITH GIRLS TURN POETS TO TELL WISHES

The beginning and the end of 300 girl graduates-to-be of Smith College are expressed in the new year book of the senior class. It is one of the brightest publications ever issued by the college girls.

Even mere man gets more than a show, monopolizing a good deal of the attention of the students. Here is Virginia Pierce's contribution, one of the gems of the collection:

Not satisfied with her A. B.,
The coyest girl graduate must then
Set out to get a new degree—
M. A. or M. A. S.

Besides the wit there is some very graceful poetry, the lines that would cast credit on mature writers. The "Lay Commander" has attracted perhaps most attention. It is by Mary E. Lowe of Seattle, Wash. It is read:

The twinkling lights and the shrouded streets,
The muffled sound of a thousand feet,
The human throng—
My heart feels full, for this is town.

The golden grace of waiting day,
The shade in the dusk of night,
The world of a thousand dreams is mine—
My soul drinks deep, for this is wine.

CLERKLESS STORES IF EDISON'S SLOT MACHINE IDEA IS CARRIED OUT

Boston shoppers are wondering how long it will be before there is established in this city a store with the equipment devised by Thomas A. Edison, "the Wizard of Menlo Park," to do away with service by clerks and to wait on customers automatically. Mr. Edison worked to develop this idea, believing it would benefit the poor.

If storekeepers whose patrons are persons of limited means do not have to pay clerks they can cut prices and consumers will get goods cheaper. There would be no waiting for change. If the Edison scheme worked well, no impoliteness from clerks and no counters. Customers would pay by the slot machine plan. If a woman wanted a bod of coal she would drop a coin in the slot and the fuel would run into a receptacle.

A small boy or girl would drop a coin in the same way in another machine and get a loaf of bread or any quantity of tea, coffee or sugar that a given coin would purchase. The storekeepers would only have to stock up his machines and then open the doors. After he closed them at night he could go around and empty the tills of a harvest of coin.

Aid to the Poor.

When Mr. Edison was asked about his automatic store system, he said:

"An automatic store is simply an extension of the nickel-in-the-slot principle—a few electro-magnets controlling chutes and hoppers and the thing is done.

"It is automatic store one man could do the work which is now done by fifty grocers. The distributing cost on every article handled would be brought down to a minimum, and the poor man who buys his flour by the pocket bagful and his coal by the scuttle could buy as cheaply as the man who purchases flour by the barrel and his coal by the twenty-ton lot.

"From a mechanical and economic standpoint there is no reason why they should not take the place of all grocery stores. It would mean a great saving to society as a whole.

"But I do not look for any such adoption of the automatic store. Pride would be altogether too powerful a factor. Even a mechanic who makes his $2.50 a day would be too proud to patronize one of these nickel-in-the-slot stores.

Living on $1.50 a Day.

"I have designed this automatic shop to meet the needs of the poor working man, the man who has to support himself and family on $1.50 a day.

"The average well-to-do citizen has no idea of how many families there are who have to get along on $1.50 a day, and how big a nickel is to them. Why, there are men working in my factory who walk all the way from Newton to Orange and back again at night in order to save a car fare.

"These people buy their food and coal in five-cent lots. That seems to be their limit. When a family buys its coal by the scuttleful it means that on account of the extra handling and attendance the coal dealer has got to charge at the rate of $20 a ton. The same ratio holds good in all the necessities of life. It simply means that the poor must pay far more than the rich man. We hear a good deal these days from people in comfortable circumstances about the increased cost of living, but how do you suppose this rise in prices has hit the poor woman going to market with a nickel in her hand?

Clerks Eliminated.

"This is the class that the automatic store will help. It will retail goods only in five-cent lots. Of course, if there should be any demand for an enlargement of the plan, automatic shops retailing goods in ten-cent, quarter or half-dollar lots, depending on the financial status of their patronage, could be equipped. If the cost of living keeps on going up in may be that the well-to-do will be willing to lay aside their pride and patronize automatic shops as an economic step, if they will save them money.

"In the automatic shop of the future there will be no shopkeepers, no clerks, no boy to wrap up packages. On entering the shop, the intending purchaser will see no one, unless he sees another purchaser. There will be no counters, no aisles, no shelves. There will be only showcases.

"In the walls of the shop there will be dozens and dozens of little openings. Above every opening will be placed a small sign. This sign will tell in a half dozen different languages what particular article that particular opening will deliver."

TAFT WILL TALK TO BRYN MAWR GIRLS

PHILADELPHIA, May 19.—President Taft has consented to make the annual address at the commencement exercises at Bryn Mawr College on June 2. The occasion will mark the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding and the completion of a $500,000 endowment. The President is expected to speak on college education for women. Miss Helen Taft, the President's daughter, is a student at Bryn Mawr, but will not be graduated until next year.

DORCHESTER GIRL SERIOUSLY HURT IN A RUNAWAY

GLADYS McCAFFERY

FALLING HORSE INJURES GIRL

Eleven-year-old Gladys McCaffery is in a state of semi-coma today at her home, No. 28 Ballou avenue, Dorchester, the result of injuries received when a runaway horse slipped and fell on her after she had come from the Roger Wolcott School at the corner of Morton and Norfolk streets, Florence Johnson, Gladys' chum fainted. She was not hit by the horse, however.

The horse, said to be owned by M. O'Keefe, the grocer, was frightened by an automobile and bolted.

Gladys was rendered unconscious. A doctor found a lump on her forehead and body bruises. She was suffering severely from shock, so that she regained consciousness, only to lapse into insensibility again. Last February the girl's father, Frank McCaffrey, dropped dead in the Back Bay.

NOTED BLACKHANDER TAKEN INTO CHURCH

ATLANTA, May 19.—Lupo, "The Wolf," and his comrades, who were convicted of Black Hand outrages in New York, were today made communicants of the Roman Catholic Church in the chapel of the Federal Prison. The rite was administered by Bishop Kelley. Among the twenty-four confirmed were four Indians, six negroes and ten foreigners of various nationalities. This is said to be the first class ever confirmed in a Government prison.

LINCOLN NOMINATED FIFTY YEARS AGO

CHICAGO, May 19.—Just fifty years ago Abraham Lincoln was nominated as candidate for President of the United States by the convention held in the old Wigwam, which was in Market street. The anniversary was informally observed by several historical societies and other organizations, the plans for a big demonstration having failed.

OLD COLONY SALE MUST WAIT YEAR

The Legislative Committee on Street Railways voted to report "leave General Court" on bills to allow the Boston Elevated to purchase so much of the Old Colony street railway as lies in the town of Hyde Park. The Selectmen of Hyde Park petitioned for the legislation so that their town might enjoy five-cent fare to Boston.

AGENT TELLS OF BUYING WHITE SLAVES

NEW YORK, May 19.—Belle Moore listened stolidly to damaging evidence at her trial before Judge Crain on the charge of selling two white women who were to be kept with her in dives in Seattle.

Counsel for the woman were willing to enter a plea of guilty to the least of the three indictments, but Belle Moore declared she could show she was innocent of wrong doing, and insisted on being tried.

George Miller, State agent, testified: "I gave certain reports the belief that I was a dive keeper in Juneau, Alaska, and intended to open a palatial resort in Seattle. Associated with me was a woman called Frankie Fuller who, it was known at the proper time, was to have charge of the Seattle resorts and was here to pass upon the girls who were to live there.

"After my reputation had been established I was introduced to Alexander Anderson, under the name of Dick Morris in Baron Wilkins' cafe in West Thirty-fifth street.

"I gave him an idea of what I wanted, and he said he knew a woman who would get me enough girls to populate Seattle.

"Anderson took me to the home of Belle Moore. He told her I wanted to get girls to live in my house in Seattle and would pay well.

"Belle Moore showed me that night a white girl and a negress, and I told her I wanted only white girls. I saw Belle Moore several times and went with her to Tenderloin resorts. I told her I wanted girls not more than eighteen years old who weighed about 100 pounds. She said she would get them.

"I received a telephone message from Belle Moore April 26, telling me she had two girls. I saw Alice Milton the first time that night in Belle Moore's home. Then, next night, I went to a resort kept by Mrs. Palmer in West Forty-first street, and there met Belle Wood and the Milton girl. I told Belle Moore I would have Frankie Fuller pass on them.

"I went to Belle Moore's house April 27. The girls were there with their grips packed. I took Amy Jackson, a woman I could rely on, with me.

"'How much do I owe for these girls,' I asked. 'How about $75 each,' said Belle Moore.

"I said the price was high, but I would pay it." I told Belle Moore $120 in the presence of Amy Jackson and promised to send the balance."

Oddities

Colebrook River Hermti Dies.

WINSTED, Conn., May 19.—Neelly Woodruff, the last of the hermits of this part of Connecticut, is dead at Colebrook river. Woodruff was eighty years old. When young he was lifted by a girl. He was well informed, especially on astronomy. He never published a farmers' almanac. Villagers will bury him.

Live Spider in Boy's Ear.

OXFORD, N. J., May 19.—The life of six-year-old David Belt is threatened by a black spider which has been inside his ear since Thursday. The physician declares the insect is still alive, and that it has bitten the lobule of the ear cavity in many places. The child's head has swollen to an abnormal size.

4,000 Miles by Trolley.

LOUISVILLE, May 19.—The party of Utica, N. Y., business men who completed a 2,000-mile trip by trolley when they reached Louisville, Monday, have left on their return to Utica via Detroit, by trolley.

Dies at 104; Widow Is 103.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Joseph Willerstein, a retired clothing merchant, is dead at his home, No. 340 Rockaway avenue, in his 104th year. "I do not want to live any longer. I don't think I can live without him," wept the widow, who is 103, last night.

Ghouls Steal Dog's Body.

GREENWICH, Ct., May 19.—Robbers have removed the body of William Bray Lockwood from the cemetery here. Miss Harriet Lockwood, a wealthy spinster, who was very fond of Billy Bray, as he was better known, a most estimable dog, has not only called upon the local police to capture the ghouls but has employed private detectives and is herself leading in the search.

JACKIE STABBED IN FRENCH PORT

TOULON, France, May 19.—Recent quarrels between sailors of the United States cruiser New York and sailors of this port have extended to the sailors of the French war vessels in the harbor. The climax came last night in a hand-to-hand battle between Sailor Adams of the New York and Engineer Marcel of the French ship Michelet. Adams was seriously stabbed, and is in the hospital aboard his ship. Marcel is under arrest.

BOY IS SAVED BY UMBRELLA

Tommy, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John McDonough of No. 175 Boston street, South Boston, fell thirty-five feet out of a third story window of his parents' home and escaped uninjured.

As Tommy was making his descent, William Connors, who was passing the home, felt something wet coming down and put up his umbrella. Tommy hit the umbrella, bounded off it into the gutter. He was picked up and rushed to a drug store, then to the hospital, and afterward taken home, as no marks of injury could be found on him.

MAKING GOOD

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good"; and Dr. Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than four decades of popularity are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards. A good, honest square-deal medicine of known composition is

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is as good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for. Don't buy

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments.

It makes weak women strong, sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over four decades ago.

As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine it is unequaled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy.

GEN. BRIGHAM PRAISES BOY SCOUTS PLAN

Adjutant General Brigham at the State House to-day endorsed the idea of improving the boys of Boston through their innate love of the military spirit, which is one of the cardinal principles of the American Boy Scout movement.

General Brigham is pleased at the suggestion that Boston is interested in the movement to make the boy scouts, and he stated his willingness to assist in the efforts to organize in Greater Boston as soon as possible.

"The principles to be instilled in the minds of the boys are for their own betterment and for the betterment through them of the country in general," said General Brigham. "Bettering the boy is bettering a citizen, for the boy some day is going to grow up into a citizen.

"It will be a good chance for the boys to learn obedience and discipline in addition to the other things inculcated by the movement. The best way of showing the true meaning of discipline is through military methods. The drill, for one thing, is bound to work for the physical betterment of the boy.

"Out of the scouting trips will come healthier bodies and keener minds. A healthy body is a good assurance of a healthy mind. The exercising the boy will get will aid him mentally and physically. The disciplinary training will help him morally.

"The physical training becomes a pleasure under the guise of military training. Make the boy a scout, and he enjoys it, but at the same time the good is being worked in him. Boys like to play soldiers, which offers one good way of engendering a loyalty to the flag and fealty to parents, employers and superiors.

"Through being Scouts, the boys ought to become better boys, and hence grow into better men."

CATCH BABY WHALE IN FISH WEIR

PROVINCETOWN, May 19.—The body of an infant whale found within the fish weir of the Pirates crew at South Truro was brought to the Consolidated Wellfleet Wharf, where crowds of spectators quickly gathered. It was less than twelve and one-half feet in length. This whale was of the finback variety, and was the smallest specimen ever captured within a weir, if not the smallest ever caught without the mother in these waters.

The D. G. Sutherland Co., 501 Washington St., Boston, Mass., have published a paper covering all phases of their work, "Health in Nature." For a limited time this book will be sent free, sealed, by mail to all who write for it. It deals with the treatment and cure of all ailments common to both men and women, such as nervousness, lame back, rheumatism, etc., and the methods, tools and prescriptions which the specialists use in doing their work. The company in curing the various diseases dealt with in their book. They employ solely their own instruments. The new Health Bed with its pleasant electric lights and music is a pleasant means of getting current through the weakened organs and muscles; fully described in the book. "Your Health Bell completely cured me of that nervous debility and kidney trouble," writes C. L. Snell, of Middlebury, Vt. This is but one of the many similar testimonials. Callers may test the Bell, Hours, 9 to 6.

PILES

"I have suffered with piles for thirty-six years. One year ago last April I began taking Cascarets for constipation. In the course of a week I noticed the piles began to disappear and at the end of six weeks they did not trouble me at all. Cascarets have done wonders for me. I am entirely cured and feel like a new man." George Kryder, Napoleon, O.

SEVEN SUBMARINES TO DEFEND BOSTON

Submarine boats Grayling, Bonita, Narwhal, Stingray, Tarpon and Snapper, now at the Charlestown Navy Yard, will not go to Charleston, S. C., as was originally intended. Under a new plan of the Navy Department the submarines and some of the torpedo boats and destroyers will have permanent bases at different navy yards.

The six submarines at the Charlestown Navy Yard, together with the Salmon, which has not yet been delivered to the Government, will form the third division with the local navy yard as its base, as part of the defence of Boston Harbor.

BOSTON COMMUTERS NOT TO BE RAISED

A rumor that the New Haven road was to raise its commutation rates between Boston and suburban stations was denied by Vice President Byrnes, who said the question had not been considered in any form; nor did he know of any contemplated raising of the question.

NEW YORK LOSES DIRECT NAMING

ALBANY, N. Y., May 19.—The Hinman-Green direct nomination bill, advocated by Governor Hughes, failed to pass the Senate by three votes, receiving 23 to 25 against. Twenty-one of the 34 Republican Senators reinforced by two Democrats voted for it.

BIG FIGURES IN INDUSTRIAL MANUAL

The first annual number of Poor's Manual of Industrials, containing 2,317 pages of text, and designed to perform a work similar to that accomplished by Poor's Manual of railroads for the railroads for more than 40 years, is issued. The book is unmarkable and only for the scope, but also for the aggregate industrial figures presented. The total capitalization of all industrial corporations presented in the book is $18,872,000,000, of which $17,559,000,000 is in the United States. The total capitalization of all the railroads in the United States is $17,254,000,000.

KELIHER KNEW BANK MONEY WAS STOLEN, ASSERTS PROSECUTOR

GARLAND DECLARES "BIG BILL" URGED COLEMAN TO TAKE CASH LOST AT FARO

William H. Garland, United States District Attorney, to-day outlined the government's case against William J. ("Big Bill") Keliher, before Judge Clarence Hale and a jury in the United States Court. He asserted that Keliher knew that Coleman was stealing the money that he was supplying him with to play faro from the Cambridge bank, and that Keliher and a man named "Jack" urged him on, declaring that luck would turn and he would regain all his losses. Mr. Garland said:

"Mr. Foreman and Gentlemen of the Jury—I ask you to listen to the story of the wrecking of a little Cambridge national bank through the machinations of as near less a gang of thieves as ever walked the earth. Only one of these is here; that is William J. Keliher. George W. Coleman, indicted jointly with him, pleaded guilty yesterday, has been sentenced to imprisonment and is not now on trial.

"Forty-six years ago, and the close of the Civil War, Congress passed an act allowing the establishment of national banking institutions. The year after the passage of this act, the National City Bank of Cambridge secured a charter and began business as a national institution. It had been conducted before that under a State charter. It was a solid and substantial banking institution.

Reviews History of Crash.

"This Cambridge banking institution continued business until three months ago, when it was discovered that the deposits amounting to $458,000 had dwindled to $107,000, the total loss being about $310,000. The United States law provides that no more than five people may organize a national banking association and may exercise all the powers of a national bank.

"For the purpose of protecting the depositors in a national bank, the government has enacted a law providing for the punishment of those who are guilty of violating the trust imposed in them in their conduct of a banking institution. The statute is designed to punish officers, employes and agents of such banks and any person outside who may assist them in wrong doing.

"The offence charged here in this indictment is the wilful misapplication of the credits of the bank. The indictment before you contains ten counts and each constitutes a separate and distinct charge of crime. The indictment in the first count alleges that on the 6th day of December, 1909, that the National City Bank of Cambridge had an account and credit of $3,500 with the National Shawmut Bank of Boston. It further alleges that on this day, George W. Coleman, a bookkeeper in the bank, who also had an account of his own on deposit there, intending to injure bank, knowingly and wilfully misapplied the credit of the bank.

The "Kiting" of Checks.

"As a depositor he drew his check for $8,500. At the time he knew that the credit was not sufficient to meet the draft. The draft was drawn in favor of Reinhardt & Company, Investment street brokers. Reinhardt & Company received the check through the National Shawmut Bank of Boston. The next day the check came to National City Bank. Of course, Coleman well knew that his credit was not sufficient to meet it, so, deliberately neglected to notify the cashier that the check was an overdraft. The cashier paid the check and the natural result was that the National City Bank was defrauded out of $3,500.

"At this point Coleman's books were shown to the jurors and the bookkeeping method explained.

"When the checks were sorted at the Cambridge bank on Monday, after coming from the Clearing House on Saturday, it was Coleman's duty to notify the cashier if he found a check which exceeded the amount of customer's deposit and to refuse payment. It was also his duty to and notify him of the overdraft, and the depositor would be notified to make good.

"Coleman would draw his check, say for $8,500, and exchange it for a Reinhardt check with Frank Von Blarcom, manager of that concern. Coleman had an account. He had been for some years speculating in stocks through this concern.

Meaning of the Charge.

"Coleman would go or send a messenger to Von Blarcom with a check, asking Von Blarcom to give him a check of the Reinhardt Company for exchange and Von Blarcom did so. We have forty-five checks which were exchanged in this manner which we will offer as evidence, if the court will allow us.

"Von Blarcom would cash Coleman's check and Coleman would go to the National Union Bank or the would send a person there, usually Mr. Lockhart, to draw out the money on the Reinhardt check which he had exchanged. When the Coleman check would come back to Cambridge the next morning from the clearing house Coleman would fail to enter it. If he entered it, a record would be made of the fact that there was an overdraft.

"This indictment alleges that Keliher, well knowing the premises, with intent to injure and defraud the bank, aided and abetted Coleman in the commission of the offence.

"We do not contend that Keliher made any false entries on the books, but the words 'aid and abet' also mean to assist, help, support, comfort and encourage. The fact that the government is that Keliher knowing all the time that Coleman was unlawfully taking money from the bank, encouraged and advised Coleman to take money from the bank and sent him back to get more.

Won Over $10,000 in Stock.

"Coleman is now about twenty-four years old. He entered the bank as a messenger, held that position for a few months and was then promoted to be bookkeeper. He was bookkeeper from 1902 until the 1st of February. His salary as messenger was $4 a week and at the time that he was bookkeeper he received not more than $12. It was a small sum and couldn't afford to pay large salaries. There were only four employes there.

"About 1901, Coleman saw an opportunity to make some money in a business venture. He borrowed $400 at the bank on a note and with it and some that he had saved he published a book called 'Prominent Men in Caricature.' Bertram H. Weeks was associated with him in this venture. The scheme was quite successful and Coleman made several thousand dollars during the first year that the book was published. With this money, most unfortunately, he began to speculate in the stock market. He had accounts with various brokers in Boston, and again most unfortunately, he was successful. He made between $10,000 and $15,000 in the stock market.

Meeting with Draper.

"At the time that he published the book he met a young man named Frank Draper. He was a solicitor for the sale of the book. About a year or two later he met Draper, and Draper induced him to go to New York and play a little game called faro. Coleman went, and Draper apparently lost. Coleman went again with Draper, gambled and lost money.

"This operation was repeated until he lost between $15,000 and $20,000, all told. At a later time Coleman met Draper on the street one day, and Draper introduced Coleman to a man whom he knew only as 'Jack.' This 'Jack' seems to have been a mysterious sort of fellow, for he soon gained Coleman's confidence. This 'Jack' was given the confidence game, and no word can better describe the game than the word confidence, for the operator first gets the confidence of his victim and then deceives him.

"It was a strange psychological phenomenon that this man should get Coleman's confidence. 'Jack' was played by Coleman as a certain scheme, and Coleman began to take money from the bank. These started in 1900 and 1901. Up to the latter time Coleman had lost all of his own money and had taken about $20,000 from the bank.

"Coleman Will Tell Story."

"Coleman seems to have been pretty well discouraged at that time, for he stopped playing the game and tried to live straight. Coleman will take the stand and tell his own story. He will tell you that he stopped playing the game, lived and lived honestly for nearly until last May.

"One day he was called on the telephone by this same person named 'Jack.' 'Jack' made an appointment to meet Coleman on the Common at the corners of Beacon and Charles streets. Unfortunately Coleman met him, he kept the appointment. There he was introduced by 'Jack' to William J. Keliher, whom he knew by sight before.

"Jack explained that the gambling houses in New York which had been closed owing to the conscientious activity of Governor Hughes were going to be opened. He explained to Coleman that this Keliher was a man of considerable means. He established Keliher had $10,000, and that he wanted to go to New York to open a gambling house. Wouldn't Coleman like to go with him? Keliher invited Coleman to go. The banks a few days later and made an appointment to go with him to New York. Coleman, however, did not play. Keliher did and apparently lost. Keliher said that he must have $10,000 more if Coleman did the same, and that they would both go to New York again and play faro with it.

Money Lost at Faro.

"Coleman and Keliher then went to New York, played, and lost. Keliher told Coleman did, and apparently Keliher did. So he went on. And all sorts of methods were used to induce Coleman to pursue this will-o-the-wisp.

"Later Summer Coleman told Keliher he was going to stop. He told Keliher he had been taking the money from the bank and Keliher said: 'Is that so? Then they will get better out of you than we will.' Coleman: 'Things are sure to come our way. 'Jack' is the dealer and he will throw it our way.'

COLEMAN'S WOMAN FRIEND SUMMONED FROM CONCORD, N. H.

CONCORD, N. H., May 19.—Mrs. Margaret L. Taylor of Cambridge was to-day summoned by officers of the federal government to attend the trial of William J. Keliher, in connection with the looting of the Cambridge National City bank, which is in progress in Boston. Mrs. Taylor was formerly a friend of George W. Coleman, who was sentenced to seven years in prison for wrecking the bank. Mrs. Taylor and Coleman used to be friends about the time of the failure. She came to this city from Boston on May 12 and was made ill by the excitement. She has been at a loding house and has been keeping very close to her room since she came here.

Deputy United States Marshal Fred S. Johnson had a talk with Mrs. Taylor last night, but it is not known what she is expected to go to Boston later.

"Keliher, who used to have a good head and a steadier hand, said that he would play four holes and they would be sure to win. Keliher said the play was 'Jack' says to get $4,000 or $5,000 more and it is sure to come our way next time. Coleman got $5,000 more.

"In October, November and December last, Coleman was drawing from $12,000 to $15,000 a week at the banks he was exchanging with Von Blarcom.

"Big Bill" Keliher on Trial in Bank Loot Case

FITZGERALD AT STATE HOUSE SCORES CIVIL SERVICE COMMISION

Mayor Fitzgerald went before the House Committee on Rules at the State House to-day and opposed up a gatling gun the upon the law under which the Civil Service Commission has something to say about how to run Boston.

Putting the Mayor's opinions into tabloid form, the law is a bad one and the sooner it is changed by the Legislature the better. And, as an aid to the committee in considering them, Mr. Fitzgerald was armed with two bills which he thought would work well in place of the present law.

He declared the present law was unrepresentative and un-American. He said the star chamber methods of the committee were unjust to everybody. The power it gave to the commission, he declared, was dangerous.

Four bills affecting the civil service were introduced—two by Mr. Fitzgerald and two by Representative Edwin Mansfield, C. F. Stone of Boston.

After the arguments the comittee voted that all four bills ought not to be admitted.

Gist of Mayor's Argument.

Mayor Fitzgerald, among other things in advocacy of his two measures, said:

"It is generally admitted that the present law relating to the approval of appointments of heads of departments by the Civil Service Commission should be changed. In order to increase the chances of securing some action I have presented two alternative bills. One of these transfers the duty of approving or disapproving the Mayor's appointments from the Civil Service Commission to the City Council.

"We have now a City Council of nine members, elected without any partisan designations, and a majority of the present Council were elected upon a ticket which represented opposition to my candidacy. I can no more control or influence the action of these members of the City Council than I can the action of the Civil Service Commissioners; but I believe them to be fitted as the elected representatives of the voters of Boston to pass upon the Mayor's appointments, and that the principle of home rule generally requires that they should be given this power, which is possessed by the representatives of the people in every other city of this State.

"There is no good reason why Boston should be singled out to have the consideration or approval of the appointment of its heads of departments transferred to some other municipality. On the principle of home rule for Boston I therefore ask for the passage of the first bill which I have introduced relieving the civil service commission from any responsibility or duty relating exclusively to the city of Boston.

Curb on the Commission.

"In case, however, the committee feels that such a change in the amended charter is too radical a one for the Legislature to consider at this stage of the session, then I ask for the admission and passage of the second bill which I have drafted. This leaves the power of approval in the hands of the civil service commission, but lays down requirements to make the exercise of this power more tolerable than at present.

"It does away with two serious abuses, first, by requiring the commission to take some positive action in each case, instead of allowing the thirty days to run out without any action at all, and second to give their reasons for rejection when an appointee is disapproved. This bill also provides for giving the appointee an opportunity to be confronted with any statements or charges which may be made against him and to answer them. It places some restrictions upon the present secret, star chamber methods of the commission, which, I believe, to be un-democratic and un-American in their character, and gives to the Mayor and the appointing some of the rights which in common fairness they are entitled to.

"It is a significant fact that the warmest newspaper advocate of the present law has been obliged to admit, editorially, that the present methods of the commission are indefensible, yet the commission in its elaborate statement, justifies them methods and announces its determination to adhere to them.

Dangerous Use of Power.

"The present law is deceptive, in that it purports to have an appointment approved or disapproved according to civil service rules and methods, yet the conditions are far removed from those surrounding a civil service examination. There are records are open and public, and the result is arrived at upon certain known principles, and therefore the decision rests upon the personal judgment of three men, subject to all the usual human prejudices.

"I see no reason for their negative decisions and they admit that they may be influenced by evidence which they keep secret and of which the Mayor and the appointee are never notified. A man may have damaging accusations made secretly with out even knowing what they are, much less having an opportunity to meet them. This is too dictatorial a power to give any commission, and injustice is sure as a result of its exercise.

"If the Civil Service laws of the State have some proper application to heads of departments, they should be applied alike in Boston and in the other cities of the State, and they should be applied through open competitive examinations. Otherwise the power is invested in really a secret court of condemnation or rejection, and such power should not exist. It has not always been in the past everywhere, only by the usually elected representatives of the people.

"The terse statement of the commission shows the difficulty of dealing with the law in such a strict and literal spirit as to defeat the intention. Injustice is done, and different from the intention of the Legislature. I do not believe that the Legislature ever intended that the law should be so interpreted and enforced in the narrow spirit which the commission has thus far displayed, and I trust the present Legislature should lose no time in enforcing a broader and fair procedure."

Representative Carmody of Worcester discussed from the reports on all the bills. Representative Bean of Cambridge disagreed with Representative Carmody on the Mayors bill. A four-fifths vote in each branch of the Legislature will be necessary to admit the bill.

LIGHTNING DEAFENS A HERD OF CATTLE

YORK, Pa., May 19.—In a brief but severe electrical storm lightning struck the residence of Joseph Strickler, in Wrightsville, and through some unaccountable freak rendered stone deaf nineteen of a herd of cows owned by Latimer Gemmill, near Bridgeville.

The bolt struck the chimney on the Strickler home, came out at the top on the second floor, and ripped off some of the wall paper, then descended to the kitchen and blew the flue stop across the room.

The deafening of the cows is a mystery, but after the storm they failed to come to the bars at the familiar call, and further experiments showed their hearing to be destroyed.

CONVICT LAWYER BEATS THE COURTS

OLYMPIA, Wash., May 21.—A convict lawyer from Spokane and a disbarred member of that profession of the same city won victories before the the State Supreme Court.

The court granted the plea of A. H. Gregg, ex-solicitor, recently sent to prison, that his name be stricken from the rolls of attorneys admitted to practice.

James Hopkins, disbarred some time ago, sought and gained relief, and the Supreme Court ruled that he may present a petition to the Spokane Superior Court to set aside the disbarment order in his case.

BOY CRUSHED TO DEATH BY AN ELEVATOR

Thirteen-year-old Thomas Ansler of Main and Meade streets, Charlestown, was killed to-day between the cage of a freight elevator and the floor of the basement in the selling establishment of M. L. Morton & Co., No. 142 Summer street. The lad had attempted to run the heavy elevator himself, and his foot caught between the cage floor and the top of a safety gate.

Ansler was employed as an errand boy in the Morton company. He went to work at 8 a. m., and hurled downstairs in the basement and into the room where cutters and pressmen are working. He washed his hands and started upstairs for a package on his way to the basement the second time he used the freight elevator from the street floor to the basement.

At the bottom of the shaft is a movable gate. Ansler's foot caught between this and the elevator floor, and he was dragged down until he was crushed between the cage and the floor.

Alfred Sundelof & Co., a teamster, employed by Hindemeoffer & Co., found the dead boy hanging between the elevator and the floor of the basement.

"Tommy was the best of boys," sobbed Mrs. Ansler, when told of her boy's death. "He had been working at the Morton Company's shop since August. He left home about 7.30 o'clock, laughing and joking, after he had kissed me goodbye."

The boy was the son of Gustave Ansler, who keeps a boarding house at No. 567 Main street, Charlestown. He was the third of five children. He grew up in Charlestown and attended the Bunker Hill School until he went to work.

NOT INSANE, ONLY HAD A TOOTHACHE

COLUMBUS, Ind., May 19.—A severe attack of the toothache, suffered by John Cooper, an employe of Reeves & Co., of this city, resulted in a call for the police on the theory that Cooper was insane. His tooth hurt him so badly that Cooper started for a dentist's office and he did not notice that he was carrying a tin cup in his hand. Some one saw the took of agony on his face, noticed he was carrying a tin cup and concluded there was need of the police. Two patrolmen were summoned hurriedly, and when they found Cooper he explained that he had the toothache. The officers allowed the sufferer to continue in search of a dentist.

SMITHS TO HAVE PICNIC.

TOLEDO, May 19.—A great reunion of Smiths will be held this Summer, W. C. Smith, of No. 1116 South Fifteenth street, promises the idea, if a large enough crowd is to hold the crowd can be found. The directory shows 500 names of Smiths entitled to a place. For every Smith in the directory it is estimated that there are four other Smiths, big and little, not old enough to get their names in the Big Book. This would swell the total to 4,000.

125 KILLED, 200 HURT BY CUBAN BLAST

HAVANA, May 19.—Martial law was today declared at Pinar del Rio, where 3,000 pounds of dynamite exploded yesterday afternoon, destroying the curales' barracks.

Advices received here state that the number dead will be greater than was first supposed, totalling fully 125, and that more than 200 are seriously injured.

More troops were rushed to the scene to-day by special trains under General Monteagudo. A close watch is being kept about the ruins.

Though many physicians and nurses have been dispatched from Havana, more are needed. The scenes among the injured are described as terrible.

Although the Government is closely investigating the report that the explosion was the first manifestation of the negro uprising, threatened to start yesterday, the belief is general here that this theory is wrong.

The fact that the rurales were transferring dynamite at the time of the accident is regarded as sufficient explanation of the affair. Nevertheless, the leaders of the movement among the negro leaders are considered the subject of the committee's inquiry. Mr. Brandeis pointed out that letters mentioned in the correspondence already had been read in public.

"Didn't you have any prejudice one way or the other?" asked Mr. Brandeis.

"Only the prejudice which one honest man has in favor of another honest man and against a dishonest one," replied the witness.

Mr. Lawler said that after an examination of the records, he had reached the decision "that Mr. Bullinger, to whom he had always had the greatest confidence, had told the truth and that Glavis had not.

"You know that Glavis had no knowledge of the charges you were making against him?"

"I made no charges against him except insubordination."

"Didn't you charge him with untruthfulness, neglect of duty and delay in the preparation of the Cunningham case?"

"I only stated the facts."

Mr. Brandeis pointed out that in writing his letter, he omitted reference to certain material documents, including two reports on the Cunningham claims made by Glavis.

'NO PREJUDICE,' LAWLER SAYS IN GLAVIS CASE

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Oscar Lawler, Assistant Attorney-General for the Interior Department, declared on the witness stand at the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation to-day that in writing the letter acquitting Secretary Ballinger he has acted without prejudice either one way or another and had approached the matter in a judicial frame of mind. He was submitted to a gruelling cross-examination by Attorney Brandeis of Boston.

Mr. Lawler was much more subdued and calm to-day than when he began testifying on Tuesday. If Mr. Lawler had been sitting on the mourner's bench at a funeral he could not have looked more glum and serious. His answers were curt, but they were not so disrespectful as when he first took the stand. He kept his eyes fastened on the table before him and never cast so much as a glance at Attorney Brandeis while being questioned.

Letters which passed between Ballinger, and George W. Perkins, of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., which were asked for by Mr. Brandeis and transmitted to the committee, were not placed in the record, as they also refer to the subject of the committee's inquiry. Mr. Brandeis pointed out that letters mentioned in the correspondence already had been read in public.

"Didn't you have any prejudice one way or the other?" asked Mr. Brandeis.

"Only the prejudice which one honest man has in favor of another honest man and against a dishonest one," replied the witness.

Mr. Lawler said that after an examination of the records, he had reached the decision "that Mr. Ballinger, to whom he had always had the greatest confidence, had told the truth and that Glavis had not.

PARK SUICIDE IS YET UNIDENTIFIED

The identity of the young man who yesterday committed suicide by hanging himself to the cross bar of an electric light pole in the circuit drive in Franklin Park, Dorchester, still remains a mystery. Nobody has as yet appeared at the City Hospital morgue to claim the remains and Associate Medical Examiner Watters, assisted by the police, is bending every effort to locate some friend or relative of the deceased.

HOUSE-TO-HOUSE INSPECTION

It is now FIVE YEARS since the Group of Gas Companies operating in Boston were CONSOLIDATED under the name of the BOSTON CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY.

During this period it has been our CONSTANT ENDEAVOR to MERIT and OBTAIN the GOOD WILL of the public, believing the SUCCESS of our business to be DEPENDENT upon RELATIONS of MUTUAL CONFIDENCE between the public and ourselves. Acting upon this principle, we have STEADILY REDUCED the price of our product and IMPROVED THE SERVICE.

The REDUCTIONS which we have made during this comparatively short interval represent a SAVING to the gas-consuming public up to May 1, 1910, of over $3,200,000. These reductions have NOT been RESTRICTED to SPECIAL SCHEDULES or to certain groups of customers, but have been APPLIED GENERALLY to all our customers.

The COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT with its corps of FORTY REPRESENTATIVES was formed immediately after the consolidation, for the purpose of KEEPING IN TOUCH with the WANTS of our CUSTOMERS by PERSONAL INTERVIEWS.

With the knowledge of the ACTUAL CONDITIONS of usage thus secured, we have been able to make changes in our system which have resulted in IMPROVED SERVICE.

In order that the REQUIREMENTS of our customers may be MORE THOROUGHLY brought to our attention, we propose to conduct another SYSTEMATIC HOUSE-TO-HOUSE CANVASS by our FORTY REPRESENTATIVES.

Our Representatives will be instructed to LOOK OVER your APPLIANCES and burners, MAKE SUGGESTIONS, invite JUST COMPLAINTS and report for adjustment, and ASSIST YOU in any way possible to SECURE THE BEST RESULTS.

The OBJECT of this canvass is to show you how you may IMPROVE the CONDITIONS under which the gas is used. The SERVICE is furnished WITHOUT EXPENSE to you and we hope that you will AVAIL YOURSELF of it to the FULLEST EXTENT.

TO-NIGHT'S THE NIGHT WE HIT COMET'S TAIL, SAY HARVARD EXPERTS

The earth is likely to pass through the tail of Halley's comet to-day or some time in sight, if it passes through it at all, is the astronomers at Harvard Observatory to-day announced. They do not believe this orb passed through the comet's tail as asserted by other astronomers last night. If it did, Harvard astronomers saw nothing to indicate it. They were on watch last night, too.

Professor O. C. Wendell to-day said: "We obtained no data last night or any somewhere. I have always contended that the tail of Halley's comet lagged far behind the nucleus.

"I think we will pass through the tail of the comet some time to-day. If we do pass through it at all.

"An English astronomer, Dr. Cornelius, who, with Dr. Crowell, another noted astronomer, is at the Greenwich observatory in England, believes that we will pass through the tail of the comet to-night. These men have studied Halley's comet carefully and have calculated its orbit around the sun and set the time for our passage through the tail.

Watch For the Tail To-night.

"There is some doubt of our passage through the tail at all, as the tail lies in a curved and sweeping position. The length of time required to pass through the tail is purely problematical.

"To-night the tail of the comet should be seen lying low along the Western horizon about fifty minutes after sunset. The nucleus of the comet may be seen to-night but it is probable that it will be involved in the twilight.

"To-morrow night and Saturday night the comet should be plainly seen in the Western horizon. It sets to-marrow evening a little more than an hour after sundown, an about two hours later Saturday night."

Professor E. C. Pickering, director of the Harvard Observatory, said: "As was expected we obtained nothing definite last night. The few meteors which we saw were not caused by the comet.

"Tonight the tail of the comet should be seen in the West shortly after sunset."

Astronomers On the Job.

At the Observatory last night the regular routine was observed. All of the astronomers were there, looking through their different telescopes. All used the large four-inch comet-finder but they failed to observe either the comet or its tail. They discovered absolutely nothing which would lead them to believe that the earth had plowed through the gaseous train of the comet.

Last night and all day the occupants of the observatory were kept busy answering telephone calls of all kinds asking one thing and another about the comet.

Staff Photographer E. C. King was at the observatory all night. He had several specially prepared plates upon which he was ready to take a glimpse of the comet's tail but not a trace appeared.

"There is nothing by which I can judge that we struck the tail," continued Professor Pickering. "I noticed nothing last night. There was no peculiar appearance of the sun. According to calculation, we should have been in the middle of the tail at 10:30 last night, but if the tail was not pointing directly away from the sun, if it was deflected, we did not pass through it. It would be easy for the earth to miss it. Anyhow, we should not know when we passed through except from calculations based on previous observations.

"My assistants, Professor Wendell and Mrs. Leon Campbell have carefully searched the light of the comet, and I think their work will lead to most important results.

Don't Look for a Torch.

"People who expect to see a flaming torch wi bei disappointed. I look for the comet's head to be about the size of the Pole star with a long tail. But it is not safe to predict what it will be for the next week or the next month, as comets are variable and may surprise us."

Professor Henry Norris Russell, professor of Astronomy at Princeton University, is quoted in dispatches to-day as saying: "The earth did not begin to pass through the tail of the comet until 8 a. m. to-day. The tail is so curved that the head had passed the sun by four hours, but the tail was tardy. The tail is not traveling so swiftly as the nucleus.

At the Mount Wilson solar observatory in California Dr. George Ellery Hale saw nothing which made him think the earth was passing through the comet's tail. The large instrument on the cupola of the sun's disc are now commanding Dr. Hales closest scrutiny, he believes that these suspects have had the effect of brightening the comet's tail.

Professor E. B. Frost of the Yerkes Observatory at Williams Bay, Wisconsin, said that the result of the earth's passage through the tail of the comet was the accumulation of an infinitesimal quantity of hydrocarbons in the earth's atmosphere about us. Brilliant aurora observed he said were in no way traceable to the comet.

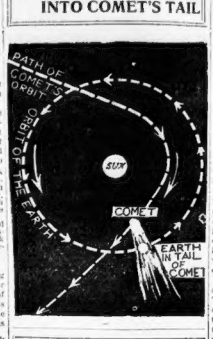
Tail Seen in New York.

The comet's tail was not visible in New York until after 2:30 a. m., said Miss Mary Proctor, the astronomer, discovered it stretching one hundred degrees in length and ninety degrees in width coming from the direction of sunrise to Aquila. It appeared to be a second Milky Way.

Thomas W. Keene, a chemist employed by the Standard Oxygen Company, discovered, he says, the gases of the comet's tail over his New York. The usual New York cloudiness prevented any observations. Last night he found it to contain 21.73 per cent. less oxygen than the amount found in mid ocean.

Only Asaph Hall of the Washington Naval Observatory to-day said that the earth passed through the comet's tail to-day.

JACOBY'S SKETCH OF EARTH PASSING INTO COMET'S TAIL



In Syzygy

By MORTON BIRGE.

(SYZYGY in astronomy, the conjunction or opposition of a planet with the sun or of any two of the heavenly bodies.—Century Dict.)

DIDJE know last night we were in syzygy?
Yes, from 10 o'clock or so.
We, our wives, began to go
In syzygy.

It's great to get yourself in syzygy.
It's redder and warmer than
Likewise very savoir faire
In syzygy.

It's pleasant writing lines on syzygy.
You can always find a rhyme
That will pass away the time
With syzygy.

To grab a word that goes with syzygy.
You just land upon the keys
Almost any way you please,
Thus—zjhxyyqqzzzy.

Nothing like it, this here syzy—

"Hey! Joe, my typewriter's busted."

MR. AND MRS. TAFT WATCH FOR COMET AT WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, May 19.—President and Mrs. Taft from the White House windows last night made futile efforts to see the comet's tail. Their experience was that of the rest of Washington. Crowds thronged the parks and avenues until early this morning. Professor G. H. Peters at the naval observatory made the first official discovery, while photographing the sun, of a darker cloud part and a tail, and declared that the comet caused them," he said, "although how or how I do not know. The photograph gives the impression of the sun glowing in a fog.

SOUTH AFRICA, TOO, DOUBTS EARTH WILL HIT TAIL OF COMET

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, May 19.—The earth may not pass through the tail of Halley's comet according to observations made at the Transvaal observatory. R. T. A. Innes, who is a director, said that the earth has not passed through the tail at dawn to-day. The tail, he said, was still north of the ecliptic and he was believed the earth will pass to the south of it.

COMET CLEARLY SEEN TO-DAY IN THE PHILIPPINES

MANILA, May 19.—Under almost ideal weather conditions, Halley's comet was observed from 3:30 to 11:30 o'clock to-day at the Jesuit observatories here, at Baguio and Antipolo. Not a particle of solid matter is in the head, according to the report of Father Algue.

The detection of matter would have been facilitated by three large sunspots which were observed. A terrific storm last night threw the natives into panic, as they attributed it to the comet.

BELMONT ELECTED CHURCH WARDEN

NEW YORK, May 19.—At the election of St. George's Episcopal Church of Hempstead Tuesday, August Belmont was unanimously chosen warden. Adam Seybert, a descendent of the first Episcopal bishop of America, and whose son was once rector of historic parish, was elected junior warden. The vestrymen selected were Eugene W. Stetson, Bergen B. Tarkman, C. F. Norton, Birdsall Post, H. E. Cornwell and J. W. B. Vanderwater. Mrs. E. H. Harriman, whose father-in-law was at one time rector of the parish, has presented $25,000 to the church. It will be used to remodel the parish house, partly built through gifts of E. H. Harriman and his brother Orlando.

BRYAN TO SPEAK AT TERRACE GARDEN

NEW YORK, May 19.—William Jennings Bryan will be a guest at dinner tomorrow night at Terrace Garden, under the auspices of the Public Speaking Club of America. He will speak on "Public Speaking." Other speakers will be Judge Nicholas Francis Murphy, John Temple Graves, Lafayette Young, Frank Moss, Miralwa Towner and H. Lee Sellers. Mr. Graves will speak on the subject, "Encouraging the Study of Oratory in America." The dinner will be in charge of Richard J. Donovan, president of the Speakers' Club, Wilbur L. Bowen, Jr., president of the Dinner Association of the Public Speaking Club of America. The committee in charge is composed of the lawyers, teachers and others interested in public speaking.

PRTESTS AGAINST SHOW WINDOW BAN

Sylvester Baxter secretary of the Metropolitan Improvement Association, has sent a letter to the press in which he protests against the attitude of the Street Commissioners in regard to window dressing. According to Mr. Baxter, a big Boston merchandise house has been refused permission to embellish its building with inboston to embellish its building with window gardens. Mr. Baxter points out that while billboards and hideous advertising signs are tolerated the window gardens which are beautiful and attractive to the 10 are frowned down. "In New York great stress is laid upon this form of decoration," he says. "Boston is one of the most popular of Summer cities and any official action that tends to diminish the attractiveness of the streets is to deplore as detrimental to the public interest."

MOST BRILLIANT VIEW OF THE COMET IS YET TO COME, SAYS JACOBY

NEW YORK, May 19.—Prof. Harold A. Jacoby, Rutherford professor of astronomy in Columbia University, has written for the AMERICAN the following article on Halley's comet and the harmless journey of the earth through the comet's tail.

By HAROLD A JACOBY.

Has there ever been such a sight of wakefulness in all the history of mankind as the night of May 18, 1910? We are told that our earth passed unharmed through the comet's tail once before, but on that occasion nothing was known in advance, and, therefore, no one could prepare for the event. To-day the vast crowds of the modern press have been exerted to inform the inhabitants of earth that they would soon pass within the luminous tail of Halley's comet.

It is true that men of science have reassured the public through this same press. They have pointed out that there is no danger; that we have been in a comet's tail before; that the particles composing the tail are not weighty enough to hurt anyone, even in quantity a million to anyone, supposing them to be poisonous. But it's all of no use; people have remained awake in spite of the astronomers to see if anything happens. This is the reason why the night of May 18, 1910, will be remembered as the "Wakeful Night."

Comets Attractive.

Nor is it really very remarkable that this should be so. Modern civilization is most wonderful; modern science has produced extraordinary changes and improvements in every direction. But even while he sits at his long-distance telephone and talks about his wireless telegraphy and his airships modern civilized man still feels deep down within him the old profound awe of the primitive savage when he sees the mighty workings forces of Nature made manifest to his eye.

The presence of a comet may be regarded as seasoned to astronomical phenomena a quarter-century expert in celestial study in every quarter of the globe is not unlikely to make a man one into youthful enthusiasm to some extent. But when he saw the comet a few days ago for the first time after a number of ineffectual attempts, when his various sights were rewarded by a magnificent view of the early morning sky, at the moment when the comet burst upon his sight with its mighty, streaming tail—at that moment the impression was positively one of awe, almost of fear.

It required some rubbing of eyes, some forced reflections of mathematical probabilities, to bring the astronomer down to the sober facts of his science, to make him really believe himself the things with which he has been possessing diurnal relations for several weeks. And his small son, who saw the comet, exclaimed: "My, but it's a pippin."

Brilliant Spectacle to Come Later.

But all those preliminary early morning observations will count probably as most unimportant and insignificant when the comet blazes out in the evening sky at a time when you can see it easily. There are two reasons why it will be seen more magnificent than it has been in the early morning. In the first place, it is nearer the earth and should, therefore, appear both larger and more brilliant. Secondly, it will appear much higher in the sky when it comes under observation.

The meager observations have been hindered considerably by the fact that the comet has always swung near the eastern horizon as to be dimmed in part by the morning mists that almost always hover along the horizon.

If the observer waited for the sun to rise higher above the horizon so as to extricate itself from the mists, he would again always disappointed. For a short time after the comet first became visible the red dawn always began to show itself, and the approaching sun quickly made the comet pale and soon fade into nothingness.

Wait Until Sun Goes Down.

For the evening observations, therefore, will be much more favorable. Last night the comet passed between us and the sun. It is moving eastward from the sun and each night will be further and further from it. Under existing conditions, and as directions are measured on the sky in astronomy, eastward here means upward. The comet will be above the setting sun, and each night it will be further and further above it.

Consequently, after the sun goes down below the horizon, quite an interval of time will elapse before the comet also sinks into twilight. During this interval the sky will darken into twilight first and finally into night. The exact moment when the comet will become visible cannot be predicted, since it depends on the inevitable luminosity of the comet and the rapidity with which the sky darkens.

It is certain that the interval between sunset and comet-set will lengthen daily. If the comet is not seen this evening it will probably be seen early on Friday or Saturday at the latest, if the weather is clear. The place to look for it is in the western sky, directly over the point where the sun has set.

Saw Absolutely Nothing.

I posted myself in Riverside Drive, on the high ground near West Seventy-sixth street, at 10:30 p. m., and watched the sky until midnight. It was expected that visible phenomena of interest might possibly occur. For instance, the comet's tail might perhaps show itself in the form of a faint luminosity, spreading over the whole sky. But no such unique cosmic spectacle was seen. If present it was masked completely by the lights of the city and by the moonlight which was strong.

About 11:20, according to estimated predictions, the earth should have been in the middle of the comet's tail. No visible phenomena occurred. If there were any they were extremely faint and must have been masked by the brilliant arc lights in the city's streets.

Not Even a Meteor Seen.

Again, some astronomers anticipated that the tail might contain numberless particles of the size and kind that usually show themselves in the form of shooting ball. If so, we might have had an opportunity to view a display of meteors such as would have exceeded the brilliant shower seen in 1833 and again in 1866, when the whole sky was covered with shooting stars.

Nothing of the kind was seen. We are compelled to conclude that the outer part of the Halley comet tail is composed of matter so extremely sinuous as to remain unseen and unfelt by us while the earth was passing through it.

Sun Spots Not significant.

There remains only one real astronomical phenomenon belonging to the comet date, May 18. It is reported from several Western cities that two sunspots of unusual but not unprecedented size made their appearance yesterday. But this is probably only an accidental coincidence of dates, for even if we admit that the comet might cause one of those solar atmospheric forms we call sunspots, we should expect it to do so on the date of nearest approach to the sun, not the date of nearest approach to the earth, and the nearest solar approach occurred last month.

So far as New York is concerned, the great comet date was merely a "wakeful night."

MOTORISTS TO HOLD 'SMOKER' THIS EVENING

By J. C. KERRISON.

An informal smoke talk and entertainment is given by the Massachusetts Automobile Operators' Association at its quarters on Dartmouth street this evening. The committee in charge has made extensive arrangements for the event, and it is safe to say there will be a large attendance.

Since the organization of the association it has accomplished no end of good. One of the strong departments of this organization is that known as the employment bureau, which has on hand the names of reliable operators, and which recommends for employment none but experienced, capable and faithful men.

The board of control of the Bay State Automobile Association is now considering ways and means for the holding of a field day on June 17, similar in character to those once held under the auspices of the touring committee.

The intention is to secure accommodations at some nearby shore resort and there on the afternoon of June 16, spending the holiday in a manner attractive to the participants.

The contest committee of the Automobile Club of America is working on the preparation of rules for the international commercial vehicle contest which the organization will conduct next Fall. This will be the third business wagon competition conducted by the Automobile Club of America, the club having organized the first two events of the sort ever held in this country.

Without having met a single accident and without making any departures from the schedule, the horseless Columbia pathfinder and its passengers arrived in Atlantic, Ia., at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, after a ten days' run from New York, which included the climbing of steep mountains, the fooling of streams, and the passing of water breakers the worst of the stoutest vehicles ever built. The car so far has traveled 1,265 miles, and will leave for the return trip Wednesday, May 18, when the real work of pulverizing for the 1910 Good-Roads Tour over the National Highway will begin.

Mayor Maddox of Atlanta presided at the banquet which was tendered by the City of Atlanta.

HOUSE UNANIMOUS FOR ELECTRIFYING

The House of Representatives, by a vote passed to be engrossed, the resolve for the furtherance of the plan for the electrification of railroads in and around Boston. There was no opposition to the resolve, which authorizes the Railroad Commission to pursue studies into the question of electrifying and report to the "Big Four" Commission on Metropolitan Improvements before November 1. Finally the "Big Four" to report a bill compelling the electrification to the next Legislature not later than January 15, 1911. The resolve now goes to the Senate.

NON-UNION MEN FIGHT BILL FOR NINE-HOUR DAY

Whipped to a standstill in the House of Representatives on Representative John J. Conway's bill for shorter hours for street railway employes, the street railway interests of Massachusetts have inaugurated a new game to defeat the measure. They have banded together little groups of unorganized street railway men throughout the State, have induced them to adopt resolutions condemning the Conway bill, and have sent these resolutions to the members of the Senate as "labor's protest" against the measure.

The Conway bill would reduce the hours of labor for street railway men from ten hours to be worked out of twelve consecutive hours to nine hours to be worked out of eleven consecutive hours. The measure passed by the House after Representative Conway had secured its substitution for an adverse report from the Committee on Street Railways.

Conway Knows the Men.

Conway hails from Ward 23, Boston, the home of scores of street railway employes. He knows the hardships they have to endure, and he understands the other end of the fight well enough to believe that the street railways can well afford to give their men shorter hours of labor.

Organized labor is with the Conway bill in the House the opposition to it came largely from the legislators who as always be rolled upon to do what the street railway companies want them to do.

But when the measure reached the Senate, a surprising turnout was there. Senators who like to be patted on the back and told these are friends of the laboring man announced that they were "a bit upset about the merits of Conway's bill." Conway heard about it, and hustled to the Senate chamber. He discovered that even Sam Ross of New Bedford, sometimes known as the labor leader of the Senate, was wobbly on the bill. Inquiries brought the information that several motormen and conductors had asked Senators to vote against the measure.

Labor Unions for the Bill.

Conway got busy with the telephone. He found that down in New Bedford, Ross's home city, a band of street railway men not affiliated with organized labor had held a meeting, with the superintendent of the local road wielding the gavel and the latter's attorney acting as clerk of the meeting, and that resolutions condemning the bill had been adopted. Inquiries in other cities brought similar facts to light.

Organized labor's official representatives in the State House to-day made it clear that organized labor wants the Conway bill to pass. They also impressed it as a fact that the meetings at which condemnatory resolutions were adopted were attended largely by men who began street railway work as "curb-jockeys."

RED SOX TACKLE WHITE SOX TODAY IN FIRST OF SERIES

FRISCO POLICE PROMISE NOT TO INTERFERE IN ANY WAY WITH FIGHT

By W. W. NAUGHTON.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—James J. Jeffries and Jack Johnson will fight their battle for the world's championship in this city on July 4. This was officially decided to-day and the announcement was greeted in all sporting circles from one end of the city to the other.

The officials have also given out the statement that the coast city police have promised not to interfere in any way with the bout.

This final selection of a battleground and the police announcement will now set at rest the fears of many of the sporting fraternity that some hitch would arise to delay the bout.

Everything is now arranged and all that remains is the meeting itself.

Supervisor John L. Herget, who under the name of "Young Mitchell" was one of San Francisco's pet pugilists in the years gone by, said he understood the arrangements had been made for the transfer of the Jolly permit from Griffin to Gleason and Rickard.

Herget is chairman of the police committee, which has to do with the granting of permits. The board of city fathers subsequently indorses or defies the recommendations of the police commissioners, and as matters stand Herget is naturally averse to being considered the last word in the connection. His name indicated that he felt sure the promoters would encounter no obstacles when the supervisors meet next Monday.

To Vote for Permit.

There are eighteen supervisors, and it is said that five of them are opposed to boxing. They were not that way all the time, as far as can be learned, and for that matter the stand they take now is merely a feeble protest, as the other thirteen votes are sufficient to launch any prizeworthy pugilistic ventures.

It is said that in the case of Johnson and Jeff, two of the rebellious five will vote for the issuance of the permit and its transfer to Rickard, for the reason they feel that they will not be suspected of having abandoned their position in refereeing to boxing matches generally.

They think the heavyweight championship affair one bout in a million, and that it ought to be encouraged. When it is all over and the next permit comes up for action, they will vote on the negative side harder than ever.

'Frisco Wants Fight.

It is easy to be seen that the sporting part of San Francisco is exulting over the change of venue in the Jeffries-Johnson trial. But it is different, oh, so different over in the little burg of Emeryville.

The mayor of the incorporated town, which serves as a setting for the Emeryville track was over on this side of the bay to register a protest with Tex Rickard against being deprived of the satisfaction of bowling the fight crowd to Mecca.

It is understood, too, that many of the business men in adjacent towns across the bay are lamenting the fact that the fight is to take place in San Francisco. But it will take place here, Rickard said this morning that he was satisfied that all his plans were in shape, and nothing could induce him to make another switch.

JEFFRIES STILL TAKES LIFE EASY IN TRAINING CAMP

JEFFRIES TRAINING CAMP, Hotwardenan, Cal., May 19.—Despite the holiday of yesterday Jeffries decided to take things a bit easy to-day. His shoulder is a trifle sore from the effects of the new crop of boils that developed a few days ago, and while he will go through a mild training routine rough work will be cut out of the schedule.

Jeff this morning denied that the visit of Eddie Grainey yesterday had any significance. "Grainey merely paid the camp a friendly visit," said he. "He assured me that he did not feel hurt because we objected to him as third man in the ring. In fact he didn't like to had rather not serve. As to the report that Rickard would withdraw in favor of Grainey there is absolutely no foundation for such a report. I consider the referee question settled."

Nothing has been heard from Jim Corbett, and it is now believed he will arrive in Bowardennan before next week.

CREWS RACE AGAIN TO-DAY

The Technology varsity crew rows against the Union Boat Club eight on the Charles this afternoon. Tech has won two of the three races already rowed.

In a close race the Tech crew defeated the Union eight yesterday by a length over a mile course. The breaking of No. 4's seat in the Union Boat Club shell when the three-quarter mark was reached gave the Tech oarsmen a chance to move ahead.

The crews row as follows:

Technology—Upham, bow; Got, Ruhr, Whittlesey, Robertson, Barnes, Herreshoff, Gere, stroke; Wetterqvist, cox.

Union Boat Club—Wiggins, bow; J. Cutler, Gardner, Shurtleff, Ayer, Bacon, C. Cutler, Farley, stroke; Mendenhall, cox.

SOCIETY FOLKS SEE JOHNSON IN FAST BOUT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—Jack Johnson went through his scheduled program of boxing to-day. The second session of the kind since he opened quarters at the beach.

Over 400 spectators were out to see the heavyweight champion work with his sparring partners. Ned Greenway, a society leader, with a party of friends, and Eddie Smith, an Oakland referee, were present. Smith said he was well pleased with the appearance of Johnson.

"The champion's condition is concerned," he said, "and one who worries about Johnson's ring ability is foolish. He is in better condition than I expected at this stage of his training. I have heard some comment that he is not doing enough work, but if I were handling Johnson I should be satisfied."

Johnson boxed with sparring partners George Cotton and Jeffries' colored boy. In the first time the colored heavyweight had donned the gloves since Sunday. Johnson went four rounds with Cotton and three rounds with Miller, the sparring partner of Jeffries. Cotton is probably the most unique character of all the champion's partners, as he goes at the big fighter determinedly and does not seem to consider the chance of landing one. Beginning next week, Johnson will begin to speed up matters, and he expects to be close to his fighting weight within a few days. He also mapped himself out hard road work.

GOOD BOXING BILL AT BROCKTON CLUB

There is a big card of boxing at the Young Men's A. A. Club, Brockton on Friday night with Dave Holly of Philadelphia and Haywood Briggs in the main bout of twelve rounds. The two scrappy fighters are about the toughest in the game and try to win by the knockout route. The preliminary bill looks especially good with Tim O'Leary of Brockton vs. Shine Marrow of Whitman, six rounds and Young Powers of Charlestown vs. Tommie Kelley of Lynn, six rounds.

B. S. DILLON IN SPEEDWAY RACE

B. S. Dillon, the champion racer of the Dorchester Speedway, will start Saturday for the first time this year. He and Kremelis will put up a stiff fight for the blue ribbon.

Another old favorite, Manilla Boy, will make his appearance for the first time in two years, while Edith R. comes back to her old stamping ground. The races Saturday ought to be the best of the season.

The club has accepted the invitation to race the Old Colony on Memorial Day at Weymouth Fair Grounds. Matches for Saturday follow:

Class A, pacing—Rosemond, b. m., J. F. McDonald; Lady Mac, b. m., J. R. Fraser; Manilla Boy, b. g., J. Wentworth.

Class B, pacing—Allie, ch. g., C. M. Wagner; Charlie King, blk. g., C. T. Wheelock; Lillian, ch. m., Griffin.

Class C, trotting—Joe, ch. g., J. Burns; John Fox, b. g., Carroll Rodd; b. g., B. F. Fox.

Class D, pacing—Emily, b. m., M. Healy; Donald, b. g., H. G. Craig.

Class E, mixed—Harry Direct, br. g., D. F. Doyle; Tom Paine, b. g., C. Keith.

Class F, pacing—Kremelis, b. g., A. M. Johnson; Lillian, ch. m., Griffin; Rosemond, b. m., J. F. McDonald.

Class G, trotting—Carroll Rodd, br. g., J. Grogan; Carl Gentry, b. g., Healy.

Class H, trotting—Ginger, b. g., P. Bowler; Kinsdyke, br. g., M. McDermott; Baron Patchen, b. g., F. Fitzgerald.

Class I, mixed—Dan C., c. g., J. F. Casey Edgemere, b. m., F. H. Eaton; Cork, c. m., L. A. Bean.

Class J, pacing—Lady Mine, ch. m., J. A. Sheridan; Tucker Boy, g. g., D. Ford; Mamie Wilkes, b. m., Harry L. Wilkes; b. g., M. Spooner; Curious Times, br. m., M. Healy.

CLARK WINS SHOOT AT PALEFACE TRAPS

W. F. Clark of Melrose Highlands won the fifth of the series of monthly shoots for the New England distance handicap championship at trap shooting over the traps of the Palefaces at Wellington. Clark broke 99 out of 100 targets standing on the nineteen-yard mark. Frank of Lynn was second with 97 "kills" to his credit, shooting from the twenty-yard mark.

SHEAN'S INJURIES ARE NOT SERIOUS

PITTSBURG, May 19.—The injury to Dan Shean, the Dover second baseman, incurred in the game with Pittsburg, is not likely to keep him out of the game. Manager Lake and Shean both say that Shean will be able to play, although his ankle, which he turned sliding into third base, is paining him somewhat.

WANTS SATURDAY GAME.

Through a misquotation the Boston club of Everett has an open date for next Saturday, May 21. The manager would like to arrange a home game with any twenty-year-old team. Address George Allison, No. 88 Bound street, Boston. Telephone Main 2353.

DAME TO COACH WALTHAM HIGH

Harry Dame, physical director and baseball coach at the school, will be Nate Tutt's successor as coach of the Waltham High School football team.

Over a month ago the football committee decided that Tutts would not be hired next Fall, as he refused to allow a cut in his salary.

It is now likely that Dame will watch the football interests of Waltham High. He is a graduate of the Springfield Training School. He was at Everett High before going to Waltham, and had great success at that school in all branches of athletics. He went to Waltham as a teacher and physical instructor and was promoted to an baseball coach after the resignation of Tutts.

HARVARD'S LACROSSE TEAM PLAYS CORNELL

La crosse, which is having quite a boom at Harvard, will have another demonstration on Soldiers Field to-morrow afternoon when the Harvard team lines up against Cornell in a championship game. Play will begin at 4 o'clock. If the Crimson team wins from Cornell the championship will be hers with a clean record of victories. The standing of the clubs to date is as follows:

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Harvard	2	0	1000
Cornell	1	0	1000
Navy	1	1	500
Columbia	0	1	000

DELMONT STARTS TO TRAIN FOR TICKLE

Johnny Mooney is confident that Al Delmont will decisively defeat Bobby Tickle of Fall River in the six-round go at the New Bedford A. C. in New Bedford next Monday night. Delmont went to Tommy Murray's camp in Natick yesterday to put on the finishing touches to his condition. The sturdy little Italian says that he will show Tickle the difference between good and fair condition next Monday.

COSTER GETS DRAW WITH YOUNG DYSON

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 19.—Joe Coster of Brooklyn and Young Dyson of this city, featherweight champion of the State, went fifteen rounds to a draw at the Standard Athletic Club at Lymansville.

It was agreed before the start that if both men were on their feet at the end no decision should be given. Coster had the better of Dyson nearly all the way.

AMERICAN A. C. BOUTS OFF; KID SHEEHAN HURT

To-night's show at the American A. C. has been called off.

Kid Sheehan of Manchester, N. H., who was to have met Young O'Neil in the final bout, has sent owrd to the club that he had met with an injury to his knee.

Sheehan suggested that the club substitute Peter Sweeney against O'Neil, but the club management thought it better to call the meeting off.

If a suitable opponent can be found for O'Neil, the club will hold its meeting Monday night. The other preliminaries will stand as arranged.

CRAGIN WINNER IN TENNIS SEMI-FINAL

NEW YORK, May 19.—William B. Cragin, Jr., the Long Island champion, and Benjamin M. Phillips, the former hockey player, won the places in the semi-final round of the cup singles at the Harlem Lawn Tennis Club in the tournament under the direction of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association.

FAST MELROSE TEAM LOOKING FOR TROUBLE

The Middlesex A. C. of Melrose is to the field again this year, and with the new material that has been added to the team this year they hope to make a better record than they did last year. Frank Heartz has been elected captain, and will do most of the pitching, with Holden to relieve him. Jones will catch, while Fawcett will cover first. Holden, or second, is covering a lot of ground, besides leading the team in batting. "Wink" Wolley is playing short in good style, and so is Haskel on third. Lewis is playing left field, Crawford centre, and Messenger right. Farwet Heartz is filling in as utility man, and comes in handy, as he can play the outfield nearly as well as he can the infield.

Any sixteen to seventeen-year-old teams wanting games, should address Paul Jones, No. 15 Authern road, Melrose Highlands, Mass. Games with high school class teams are wanted also.

JULY Reductions NOW!

We've Proved That the Public Wants the Truth

THE man who's above board in his own business likes to trade with a house that follows the same principles in EVERY phase of its dealings.

When, last week, we came out truthfully and told the public about the backwardness of this Spring's business, in every line in Boston, and throughout the country, we put to shame the other stores who have been trying to gloss over the bad conditions of trade by pretending a big Spring business.

Instead of pretending WE met conditions by making reduction NOW that in other years we have never made before JULY. This truthful, open policy has made more new friends for Georges than have ever come along in one week before. The response has been great, quick and appreciative—in short, the public wants the Truth.

HUGH DUFFY DAY AT RED SOX FIELD

By DYKE CLARK.

Feeling pretty sure that they had a bond trouble on their hands the Chicago White Sox hit the bay as soon as they reached the Copley Square Hotel this morning after the long ride from Philadelphia.

The sox came with twenty-one men this afternoon to make the most of their last days' battle here but for the present in the best of shape and ready to go to work.

Manager Duffy has made it understood that prior to the game this afternoon during batting practice he will present each player on the Red Sox team with a gold watch fob, suitably engraved, as a token of appreciation for the good work they have done for the Boston club.

Duffy decided on the watch fobs instead of the usual custom of presenting each player with a gold watch as he thought the fobs would be more appreciated by each player.

Providence Fans on Hand.

The Providence fans who are coming up to give Duffy a welcome will be allocated in not being able to see Russell Blackburn, securing his position right off the reel. He was seated in the knee cap of Philadelphia pitcher Bill Bailey, and will be seen in the center field garden.

Freddie Parent, who left Chicago and went to the box in Maine with his bride, came East, leaving here to join the club this afternoon and will be in uniform for the game. Pat Dougherty, who left here to join his fellow pitchers, will be looked after in the game, as he intended to make his home during the winter in Providence. Walter Kelly was one of the callers at the Hotel Tuesday.

Joe Tannehill, pitching for Chicago's second team against Red Sox in the exhibition game, will be pitted against Rube Foster, the southpaw recruit from Providence, who has been doing great work in the minors this season. Foster is a product of the Providence club, and has been pitching great ball in the Eastern League.

Run of Hard Luck.

The team has been having hard luck on its Pacific trip, losing six out of seven games, but the majority of the defeats went wrong by close scores. How if any of the team is made up of fighters is putting fast ball and just missed running it at Shibe Park.

Doc White, Smith has led the pitchers in batting work, the eight games that Chicago has collected. Big Ed. Walsh is good here, and a few old breaks have missed his winning record to be pitched. Farmer Lee, Joe Scudder and Frank Smith Wood will take care of the backstop, Infielder and Dickie Hahn, who is not hot this trip, will be used here.

There are three baseball correspondents here from Chicago, Hugh Fullerton of the Tribune, George Rice of the News and Charley Dryden of the Examiner.

HARVARD AND UNION CREWS IN THE HENLEY

PHILADELPHIA, May 19.—Harvard and the Union Boat Club of Boston will row in the eighth annual regatta of the American Rowing Association on the Schuylkill river next Saturday.

The college entries are from Yale Columbia, Pennsylvania and Georgetown, all coaches. The club crews come from Boston York, Brooklyn, Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia.

The greatest interest will probably be taken in the race for junior college crews in which Pennsylvania, Columbia and Georgetown will compete. Another interesting race will be that for freshman crews between Yale, Pennsylvania and Columbia. All races will be one mile, 550 yards.

The following are the entries:

[illegible] Barge Club, Baltimore Rowing Club, Pennsylvania Barge Club, Philadelphia Rowing Club, Union Boat Club, Boston Rowing Association, Undergraduate Boat Club, Yale University, Undergraduate Boat Club, Columbia University, Undergraduate Boat Club, Pennsylvania University, freshman eight-oared shells—Undergraduate Boat Club, Columbia University, Undergraduate Boat Club, Pennsylvania University, freshman eight-oared shells—Undergraduate Boat Club, Columbia University, Undergraduate Boat Club, Pennsylvania University, freshman eight-oared shells—Undergraduate Boat Club, Columbia University, Undergraduate Boat Club, Pennsylvania University.

RACE TO CARTS AT READVILLE

The members of the Gentlemen's Driving Club of Boston, who have favored racing on certain festival seasons, have won a partial victory as it has been decided by the race committee that some of the races at the club's coming series of meets will be to carts.

Some of the conservative members of the club have fought against the use of carts, their position evidently being that to race to the two-wheel vehicle, instead of the four-wheeler, carried with it a certain loss of dignity and smacked of the professional.

On the other hand a great many of the members pointed out that it was a great deal more comfortable riding in a cart, as it also goes without saying that the cart is the safer of the two. Hence it is the intention of the race committee to make cart racing at the club's matinees this season a feature of the sport.

There are at present a lot of youngsters owned by club members that are in training. It goes without saying that at present their owners think though they will not acknowledge it that their own particular colt has a chance to win the first big purse stakes but after the season some of them at least will have shown that they are hardly up to the futurity standard.

It is from the ranks of the youngsters that fall to pass their futurity exams that the race committee expects to swell the number of starters at the Readville matinees. The club house at Readville will be opened June 1.

NORTON SENDS COLTS TO TRAINER TITER

George Norton, who in past years has raced a number of well known horses, both on the race tracks and on the road, has sent to Henry Titer to be trained and raced three young trotters of his own breeding. One of them is a five-year-old gelding by Aldwood, 2:08¼, the second is a three-year-old gelding by the same sire, and the third is a two-year-old colt by Aquilla, 2:19¾. All three are out of Phyllis, 2:29¾, who was one of the fastest brush horses on the Boston speedway. All three are excellent individuals, well gaited, and can step it out in a way that warrants the belief that they will pay their training bills.

PHILLIPS-ANDOVER TO HOLD BIG MEET

ANDOVER, May 19.—Phillips Andover will hold an inter-high school track meet June 11. All the high schools in this vicinity have been invited and it has been definitely decided to make it an annual event hereafter. A banner will be given to the high school team winning the most points.

OH! YES, THERE IS A BIG DIFFERENCE

Sometimes a man drops into our shop and looks over our line. During the process he ventures the remark that "He can't see any difference between a suit made by a tailor and a good ready-made suit." It is then up to us to explain the difference.

Do you own a set of false teeth? Well, if you don't, you probably know somebody who does. The teeth look very much like a sample set in a dentist's window. But would you think of ordering a set of ready-made teeth—just because they looked the same? If so, you are a ready-made man for life.

There is just as much difference between Gale & Kent clothes—made to your measure—and a suit of clothing store clothes, as there is between a set of teeth made from the cast of your mouth, and any old sample set you can see in any dentist's case.

Our prices needn't worry you, either. We even challenge the ready-made stores with the same prices or less. Our prices run $15 to $25 for suits—chosen from the finest line of new goods to be found in any tailor shop in Boston. Open evenings. Drop in and see the shop, anyhow.

"The Prince and the Pauper"---By Nell Brinkley

Copyright, 1910, by American Journal Examiner

The real Prince is the poor baby who has a wealth of love from his father and mother. And the real Pauper is the rich baby whose stranger-mother visits him from curiosity.

Little Miss Brag has much to say
The rich little Lady from over the way
And the rich little Lady puts out a lip
At the talk of her own white, dainty ship
She wishes that she could wear a gown
Pretty as Gladhow I faded brown
Poor little Miss Brag—she has much cause—
The privileges of a orphan dress—
Ahh
Ohh!

Little Miss Lonesome, sees the world
Has beautiful coats and dresses furled
Her own are of cotton, homely and bold
The laundry of Lonesome is sold
Poor little Miss Lonesome—she has much cause—
The privileges of a cotton dress—
Ahh
Ohh!

Little Miss Jollies—so hard to hide
With footmen standing on outside

Yet wishes that sometimes after dark
HER father would twundle HER in the park
That sometimes HER mother would sing the things
Little Miss Brag says HER mother sings,
When through the attic window streams
The moonlight full of golden dreams.
Ahh,
Ohh!"

FATE, the strange fairy who comes with the troop of the Little Princes of the moon to see that poor or rich or fits upon the little ones some babies happiness that song over their tiny, silvery cradle heads.

And grim Fate, the unseen, her pitying eye will see and sigh. For she knows that as the gingham apron will fall the deeper happiness, the bigger joy, the keener emotions all through life. She knows that the handmade lace and linen will taste no deeper than the froth of things, that even if diamonds are doled out the bitterness and dregs, yet will I drink the heart too. The son of life will and who is the Pauper. All the rich babies and palace, scurrying like a whirl of headed world doesn't always know that started pigeons at his street call. They Even the Prince, maybe, mightn't know order his little life, too—for they put him he is one—and the Pauper will shake his and off him and love him and scare him gold curls when he's grown up and that against the window pane, and worry him.

His Disposition Was Entirely Too Hopeful---By Kennett Harris

"BLESS

He Didn't Grow Discouraged

Still Hopeful in Prison

Things Never the Way He Hoped

The Wasteful Wife

By J NES J. MONTAGUE

WHEN Dobson draws his wage
He must pay for the cigars
And drinks that he has had
Hung up at sundry downtown bars
He settles for that poker game, pays up the ten he owes,
And plunks down a deposit on a new Spring suit of clothes
He sees a dollar tie he likes; he also gets a hat,
There's nearly seven dollars left, and Mrs D allows that

When Hodson gets his salary he asks the boys to dine,
And celebrates the pay day with a quart or two of wine;
He takes a taxicab uptown and invites a bunch of friends,
Whose pay days are a long way off, so Mr. Hodson spends.
He puts aside a twenty, which is due upon the flat,
Which leaves him thirteen eighty five and Mrs. H allows that

When Robson draws his profits from the office Tuesday night
He pauses at the Midas House to have a little bite.
He hears about a motor car that's got a new arc clutch,
Calls up the store and orders one, and never asks how much.
He loses ninety matching bills, embarks upon a bat,
And wakes with fourteen in his clothes, and Mrs. R. blows that.

Oh, woman, wasteful woman, with your wanton, spendful ways,
How you dissipate the lucre that a man works hard to raise!
At every corner grocery store, at every butcher's stall,
You spend, and spend, and spend, and spend, as if you owned it all!
Do you expect poor, weary men can read contented lives
When all their hard-earned money goes to keep up wasteful wives?

All that the wife gets is her husband's "leavings."

Society Is Prepared for Many Brilliant Weddings; Calef Nuptials at Trinity

By ELIZABETH ELLIOTT.

If it weren't for the prospect of so many brilliant weddings, how would the fashionables manage to exist these days when all is such deadly calm and quiet? The prospect of something more alluring is about all there is to keep up hope.

Among the weddings in June, probably the last to take place in town, will be that of Miss Anita Calef, whose marriage to Francis Boardman of New York is set for June 8, and is to take place at Trinity.

All the arrangements have been decided upon and preparations are going on apace. Following out the latest edict of fashion, eliminating the long list of bridal attendants, Miss Calef has decided to have but one, Miss Clara Boardman, sister of the bridegroom who will be maid of honor.

Bradford Boardman, Yale '05, will be his brother's best man while the ushers chosen are C. Cortlandt May, Frank Brookfield, a classmate of Mr. Boardman, Yale '97, Edward Comstock and Richard Chisholm.

Miss Calef and her mother who have long in New York for some time returned to Boston on Tuesday when the invitations for the wedding were issued.

Miss Calef is the only daughter of Mrs. Benjamin Shreve Calef of Beacon street, and one of the cleverest members of the Vincent Club. Mr. Boardman is a son of Mrs. William H. Boardman (Henrietta Hall), of East Twenty-fifth street, New York, and it is in that city that the young people will make their future home.

One of the events of interest yesterday was the musicale which Miss Marie L. Everett gave at her studio in the Copley, Copley square. She has issued cards for another to be given on May 24 at the same place.

+ + +

The Countess de Conturbia of Italy, who is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. John Henry Sturtevant in Boston, is leaving town today for Philadelphia, where she will be the house guest of Mrs. Edward K. Rowland at her residence, the White House, Devon. On May 23 Mrs. Rowland will give an afternoon tea for the Countess, when tea will be poured by Mrs. Charles K. Harrison, Jr. and Mrs. Emory McMichael.

+ + +

Mr. and Mrs. Larz Anderson, Secretary and Mrs. George von L. Meyer, the Misses Alice and Julia Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, Representative Nicholas Longworth, Mr. and Mrs. John Merriam, Representative Hamilton Fish and Miss Emily Fish, Miss Grace Bell, Miss Marguerite Barbour, and Miss Marion Oliver were among the throngs that attended the Indian entertainment given in Washington by Mr. and Mrs. Preston Gibson.

+ + +

Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Coolidge (Edith Lawrence) have just closed their town house on Berkeley street, and have gone to their country place at Pride's Crossing for the season.

+ + +

Miss Mary Derby Peabody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Peabody of Fenway, and Henry Russell Scott, son of Colonel and Mrs. Henry B. Scott, have chosen Monday, May 23, for their wedding day. Mr. Scott comes from Burlington, Iowa.

+ + +

Mrs. A. S. McDonnell sailed from New York City on the Lusitania for a six weeks' trip abroad.

+ + +

Miss E. P. Sohier of this city is stopping at the Curtis Hotel in Lenox this week. Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Rackeman, who have been spending some time at the Curtis, arrive in Boston to-day for a short visit with friends.

+ + +

Mrs. J. Montgomery Sears and her daughter, Miss Helen Sears, have just returned from Europe.

+ + +

Mrs. John C. Phillips and her daughter, Miss Martha Phillips, are leaving their place in Washington to spend the Summer in Beverly.

+ + +

Mrs. Wirt Dexter of Commonwealth avenue is entertaining Miss Rachel Constine during her visit here.

+ + +

Mrs. Gertrude B. Newell of Brookline and her sister, Mrs. Amelia Hollingsworth, have been entertaining Mrs. F. S. Potter of New York at their home.

+ + +

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Abbott and their daughters, who went over to New York for the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pell (Madeline Borland) are stopping at the Belmont Hotel.

+ + +

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hammond of Beacon street and their family go to their country home in Nahant to-day.

Uncle Sam Declares War on the Sparrow

The sparrow must go. It's either the other grains when newly sowed, ripening, bird or Uncle Sam. That revered old and in shocks.

That revered old gentleman has decided that the country isn't big enough for them both.

To the unlimited, the sparrow appears to be a very cunning feathery morsel, not big enough to do any particular damage, but Uncle Sam has been investigating the entire sparrow family. The things he has unearthed are perfectly shocking.

The United States Department of Agriculture has just issued a bulletin which asserts in plain, unequivocal terms that the sparrow is a cunning, destructive and filthy creature. It's gunpowder and shot, poison and traps for Mr. Sparrow henceforth.

The government's program might at first seem contrary to the teachings of the public schools where children are invariably cautioned not to molest the sparrow as, in fact, any other dumb creature, but the government's plan is not in reality cruel. It aims to prevent the increase of sparrows by destroying their nests and to reduce the number of living birds by catching them in traps and putting them out of the way painlessly. It is also suggested that the little creatures might be used more generally as food.

"In its economic relations," says the official bulletin, "the English sparrow among birds is comparable to the rat among mammals.

"Its natural diet consists of seeds, but it eats a great variety of other foods. While much of its annual consumption of waste material from the streets, in Autumn and Winter it consumes quantities of weed seeds, and in Summer numerous insects. The destruction of weed seed is undoubtedly in the sparrow's favor. Its record as to insects is not so clear.

"On the other hand, much can be said against the bird. It destroys small fruits as cherries, grapes, pears and peaches. It also destroys buds and flowers of cultivated trees, shrubs and vines. In the garden it eats seeds as they ripen, and nips off tender young vegetables as they appear above ground. peas and lettuce being especially subject to attack. It damages wheat and

"It reduces the numbers of some of our most useful native species, such as bluebirds, house wrens, purple martins, tree swallows, cliff swallows, and barn swallows, by destroying the eggs and young and by usurping the nesting places. It attacks other familiar native birds, as the robin, wood, red-eyed vireo, catbird and mocking bird, causing them to desert parks and shady streets of towns. Unlike native birds whose places it usurps, it has no song, but is noisy and unmusical.

"Sparrows frequently give annoyance by roosting in ornamental vines and in cornices about buildings. If driven out late at night, several nights in succession, they will usually desert the roost. A jet of water from a garden hose is a potent disturber, particularly on frosty nights. Where water is not available, small Roman candles may be employed.

"Though sparrows may be driven from a given neighborhood, the relief thus obtained is only temporary, and has the further objection that the nuisance is simply transferred elsewhere. More drastic action is therefore preferable. The most effective method of preventing the increase of sparrows in a locality is to destroy their nests at intervals of ten or twelve days throughout the breeding season.

CHAPTER XXVII.

"THIS is the house, sir; they live on the third floor; you'll find the names on the door. 'Brown-Williams.'"

Phil Cartwright and Dick Ward had stepped from an automobile in which were Aunt Gretchen, Claire and Monty.

The agent, from the detective bureau, had run down his quarry. He was dismissed.

"Phil, you had better go ahead and feel the way," urged Dick huskily. "I am all of a tremble. I haven't seen her in a year. Go ahead, Phil, and I'll follow in a minute or two."

Cartwright made his way up the stairs and tapped on the door.

Mary Williams looked him over and asked him what he wanted.

Frances was standing behind her.

"Dick Can't Live Without You."

"Phil!" she gasped. "How did you? What is it? Is anything the matter? Does he want to serve me with divorce papers?"

"May I come in, Frances?" he asked.

"Yes."

She was trembling violently.

"Is he ill or dead; O, what has happened?" she begged.

"He is well, and wants you," replied Phil. "He can't live without you, Frances. He has sent me to ask you to come back to him."

Another form filled the little doorway, and a gray-haired man stood on the threshold.

"Dick Ca"

"Frances, my wife!"

"It's her man?" asked Mary Williams of Cartwright.

"That's right, the very first guess," responded Phil dryly.

"She's crying for pure happiness," whispered Mary. "She's been praying for him to come to her."

"Where is the child?" sounded a shrill voice from the hall. "Frances! Frances! It's Aunt Gretchen."

She strode into the room, kissed her niece, studied her face closely and exclaimed:

"What a change! You look like a woman and not a doll now. For the lamb's sake! There's real color in her cheeks, and her body looks strong. And what a neat little place and how pretty!"

"Well, you've kept mighty comfortable all these days," the aunt continued, after poking her nose into the other rooms and examining them critically.

Happiness Comes to Frances.

"We can thank my friend Mary Williams for that," replied Frances from Dick's arms, and then Mary found herself shaking hands with new friends and playing with Claire's baby, as soon as Claire and Monty had greeted the stray lamb that was once again in the fold.

"The new home is all ready for you and waiting for you, dear," said Dick. "It is just a snug little place for two, and as soon as you get settled again we are to have our honeymoon trip all over."

"But, Mary, I can't leave her," protested Frances.

"Yes, you can; until the honeymoon, anyhow," said Mary with a smile. "Then we are going to go in partnership on our factory and perhaps we'll take in another partner—one of the men."

Mary went to the door, downstairs, with them and saw them all bundled in the big touring cars.

"To-morrow is Sunday, dear," Frances told her, leaning over the door of the car. "Be up early, for I am coming to take you home with me. There'll be no excuses, mind."

She held out her hand and Mary took it.

"I wouldn't part with you for any one in the world, except my husband," added Frances, "and he won't have you left alone, when I tell him what you have done for me. We shall stop Mrs. Taylor and kiss her babies goodby!"

Bust-Developing and Wrinkle-Removing Secrets Free

How to Have a Captivating Figure and Be Rid of Wrinkles, Free to Anyone.

An American business woman of Providence recently obtained possession of a harmless secret for the development and wrinkle removing, which she tried on herself with astounding results. All hollows in the neck and bust were quickly filled in, and the bones were soon covered with firm, but soft, yielding flesh. The angles in the shoulders disappeared, her bust increased in size several inches and was made firm and shapely (symmetrical, instead of scrawny and unsightly). The wrinkles in her face were smoothed out, and she became plump and beautiful. Now she is passing the secret to other unfortunates.

She now offers to send free to any woman whose figure is undeveloped or whose face is marred by lines and wrinkles full particulars of this simple method which will enable you in the privacy of your own home to add inches to your bust, to secure a captivating figure, like the ladies pictured in photos herewith, and to make your face clear and radiant.

All our lady subscribers who wish to be benefited, and who will forward us a self-addressed, stamped envelope (for return of this secret information free of charge), will be forwarded by return mail, by writing to Miss Janet Gilbert, 118 G. St. Import Bldg., Providence, R. I.

SERVICES HERE FOR EDWARD VII.

At the church of the Advent, Mt. Vernon and Brimmer streets, to-morrow morning at 10:30, there will be a solemn requiem mass for the repose of the soul of the late King Edward VII. This service comes at practically the same time as the burial service in England. A general invitation is being extended to the public. The British Consul-General will attend officially in uniform and will occupy the place of honor. The Consuls, or Consular representatives of Argentina, Belgium, Bolivia, Chile, Denmark, France, Greece, Germany, Guatemala, Japan, Mexico, Panama, Russia and Spain have accepted invitations to represent their governments. Officers of the United States Army will be present. The rector, the Rev. Dr. Van Allen, will deliver the memorial address.

A memorial service will also be held at King's Chapel at noon to-morrow.

DOMESTIC TRAINING FOR GIRLS URGED

NEW YORK, May 19.—John Kirby, jr., of Dayton, O., was re-elected president of the National Association of Builders' Exchanges before the association adjourned. The report of the committee on industrial education, after dwelling on the necessity of adequate trade schools for boys, said:

"Since most women who engage in wage earning industries (as well as others) are at least potentially wives and mothers, the training for housekeeping and home management is followed as a necessary essential part of all their education, whether it be industrial or general, and this is in fact just as necessary as wofully neglected in our school system.

"It is therefore our duty to make special effort to bring domestic training to the front and do everything possible to place it on a higher plane."

WOMEN DIVIDE ON OWEN HEALTH BILL

CINCINNATI, O., May 19.—In the Cincinnati session of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, a resolution was offered indorsing the Owen bill creating a national department of health. Mrs. Philip Ward of Boston willfully opposed the resolution. She is president of an organization said to be closely allied with the "drug trusts" and said the purpose of the bill was to spend millions of government money to aid and promote "the profits of the drug." Mrs. Williams, chairman of the medical committee, denied this. The resolution was adopted.

MILITIA TO SEARCH FOR LOST BOYS

BRIDGEPORT, Ct., May 19.—Three local companies of the State militia will be called into service to-day to help in the search for two six-year-old boys who have been missing for two days from their homes in Seaside Park and Freedom Chambers. Over 100 people are now hunting for the boys, and Bridgeport harbor has been dragged in vain. Many members of the fire department are also looking for the boys, and an automobile company has placed cars at the disposal of the police. Search are searching up and down the outlying roads in the search.

Friends of Edwin Hawley say that when the market turns the Hawley stocks will be strong cards. It is stated that both Chesapeake & Ohio and Interborough-Metropolitan preferred will be conspicuous features of the predicted movement in this group of stocks.

Interborough Rapid Transit Company's statement of earnings for the past two months shows the best showing of that company to date. Gross earnings for the ten months' period ended March 31st show an increase of 8.9 per cent. over the same period of 1909. Net and surplus showed corresponding increases and a final increase of approximately 60 per cent. in the surplus for the above mentioned period.

If there are unpleasant things to keep in mind there are also pleasures and the steady improvement of conditions in the low cost producing copper mines is one of them. Even the Amalgamated has got the fever and officials of that company are making the claim that copper costs only 9½in cents a pound at the Butte camp. The Amalgamated is trying to make out that it can compete with the field, which is the acknowledged leader of low cost producers.

Western Maryland stock is selling in the market for less than the actual cash paid in on the recent reorganization. In a year and a half Western Maryland will be a part of New York Central's main freight line. It will be a tremendous business out of Pittsburg. Its stock market future may be guessed from the fact that after supdewatering the new issue of $25,000,000 of stock at 50 the underwriters manipulated the market so that they were able to get practically all of the stock, and when they let it break to about 42 and picked up all they could. Western Maryland will spend about $5,000,000 more for terminals at Baltimore.

$ $ $

Holders of Amalgamated are thoroughly convinced that the stock is to be put on a much higher figure by the time Rogers has the stock in charge. The latter is very strong and is working hard to make it a better and more attractive appearing stock. The purchase of the Chicago properties is being put forward as one of the strongest bull cards.

The Guggenheims are talking a better demand for lead, and predict higher prices for copper as a result, their contention being that copper demand shows large sales of lead.

Morris & Co. of New York, who have underwritten the stock issue of the Wyandot Silver Mines, Limited, contemplate taking a small party in the latter part of the month to inspect the property. The subscription price of 35 cents will be raised to 45 cents shortly.

Directors of the Calumet & Arizona Mining Company have declared a quarterly dividend of $1 per share, payable June 15th. Three months and a year ago $1 was declared. The distribution of this quarterly dividend calls for $500,000, and the total payments to date $56.50 per share, or $11,300,000.

Firm rooting of seed and careful cultivation of soil make up for a deficiency in growth caused by the long spell of cold weather. The crop season is still a full week ahead of average and the outlook is almost perfect. Hill and Harriman and other large railroad interests have a confidence that spans years, not months.

A high authority regarding Chesapeake & Ohio affairs says that the Hocking Valley litigation will make no difference whatsoever with respect to the proposed action of the directors of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co. on the dividend at their meeting to-day. Cooperage contemplates building a fifty-mile connection from its line at Huntington, W. Va., to Wellston, O., on the Hocking Valley.

LOCAL MARKET DULL AND QUIET

Trading on the local board to-day was the lightest yet seen. There was an absence of quick orders and some moderate buying caused a generally firm tone with fractional advances throughout the list.

At the opening Isle Royale and United Fruit made sensational advances, Royale opened at 22, up a half point and soon went to 24 which is an advance of 2½ points from last night's closing; buying tempt to cause a break in the stock was unsuccessful and the bears quit upward.

LEGISLATORS FAVOR BUFFALO ROAD

Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston has recommended that a railroad be built to directly connect Boston with Buffalo, and in executive session the Legislature's Committee on Railroads voted to report to the Legislature resolutions favorine the project, which are to be drafted by Senator Tarbell of Pittsfield, and Representative Washburn of Worcester. The committee also voted to recommend that a bill relating to railroad bonds be referred to the next Legislature. This bill provides that before a railroad company issues stock it must file with the Railroad Commission a certificate showing that 25 per cent. of the cost of building has been subscribed.

WOLTER'S PARENTS ADOPT FIANCEE

NEW YORK, May 19.—Katie Mueller, the sweetheart of Albert Wolter, sentenced to death for the murder of little Ruth Wheeler, is now living with Wolters parents, and it is said to be their intention legally to adopt her.

Frank Moss, the Assistant District Attorney who tried the case, offered the girl a home, and for two weeks she accepted it, "but Albert wrote me he'd rather I'd parents," she said, "and I shall always stay with them; that is, as long as they will let me."

GIVES UP WEALTH TO SELL PAPERS

S. Ill. LOUIS, Mo., May 19.—To attain the peace of simple life, Henry H. Tieman, sixty years old, who has a grocery here, abandoned his business and his fortune, said to be $12,000, and has been found in Shreveport, La., in rags selling newspapers and magazines. "I will not return home," said Tieman. "Business worries nearly killed me, but now I am free and happy at last."

MELLEN WILL TALK TO COMMUTERS

NEW YORK, May 19.—President Mellen of the New Haven Railroad will meet representatives of commuters at the Grand Central Station to-morrow for a discussion on the recent increase of commutation rates on the line between this city and suburban points.

ARTHUR E. DENISON DEAD.

Arthur E. Denison, a well known Boston lawyer who was at one time the partner of Edward Everett, died early to-day at his home in North Cambridge at the age of sixty-two years. He was a trustee of the Cambridge Public Library Institution he was graduated with the class of 1869. He was a member of the corporation and of trustees of the North Avenue Universalist Church. Mrs. Denison and one son survive.

FIND BODY IN HARBOR.

The harbor police recovered off York wharf, the body of a man five feet, ten inches tall, weighing 190 pounds and dressed in dark clothes. The man is supposed to have been one of the crew of the barque Passaic who was reported missing about four months ago.

HIGHER PRICES IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, May 19.—Assurances by bankers that something definite would be announced concerning the recent sales of American bonds in Europe were reflected in a strong and more active stock market in Wall Street today. Canadian Pacific was the feature, rising to the new high record of 195¾, or an advance of 2⅝ points over the closing prices of yesterday.

Demand for the Harriman shares was better than for several days. Union Pacific and Southern Pacific rising a point each. Reading rose 1¾ points, while Amalgamated specialties and steel were moderately traded in at prices nearly a point above the previous closing.

London sent over a higher range of prices for American stocks. The Bank of England failed to reduce the discount rate.

Gilt-edged copper shares showed fractional improvement on the curb market. Chesapeake & Ohio was steady in anticipation of an increase of 5 per cent. when the directors meet to-day.

MISS KNOWLES TO BE A BRIDE

Another Vincent Club girl is to desert the ranks. Miss Charles de Harding of Beacon street having just announced the engagement of her sister, Leslie Appleton Knowles, to the well-known athlete and club man, Arthur Blake.

Miss Knowles, who is one of the cleverest of the Vincent Club members, is the elder daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Knowles of Beacon street. Her mother was an Appleton. Her brothers are Henry Appleton Knowles of the Purtan Club, who makes his home with Miss Knowles, and John Appleton Knowles, who married Miss Clement and has joined the colony of newly-weds at Dover. Miss Knowles is an accomplished musician, a clever dancer, an expert horsewoman and is prominently identified with the New England Club.

Mr. Blake, who was graduated from Harvard in '05, is one of the five sons of Dr. John G. Blake of Beacon street. His brothers are Dr. Gerald and Dr. John Baker Blake, Fulton and Frederick Blake, and his only sister is Miss Marie Blake.

PLAN WELCOME FOR TEACHERS

Plans for the reception of delegates to the annual convention of the National Education Association to be held in Boston in July are well under way.

The reception committee, of which Oscar C. Gallagher is chairman, has mapped out its work and the details of their plans indicate that Boston's visitors are to be cared for from the moment of their arrival.

The committee has arranged to meet trains and boats. Special cars will meet all trains at the North station, and visitors arriving there will go direct to the convention headquarters at the Old Art Museum in these cars. At the South station guides will be present to conduct strangers to headquarters.

The reception committee has organized the teaching force of the city of Boston, including three thousand teachers.

BARGAINING ON RAILROAD BILL

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Tremendous efforts have been under way to win a few Democrats to the standard of the Senate regulars. The leaders have been participating in parleys to that end. They have succeeded in interesting the Democrats as a body, and a considerable group of those partisans met in the rooms of Senator Martin of Virginia to discuss the wisdom of making a bargain.

Four Democrats—Pletcher of Florida, Hughes of Colorado, McEnery of Louisiana and Taylor of Tennessee supported the regulars in a vote on an amendment proposed by Senator William Alden Smith of Michigan, giving the attorney-general charge of railroad rate cases on appeal from the commerce court to the supreme court. Practically all the insurgents voted against the amendment.

SLAYER TRACED BY CAR TRANSFER

CHICAGO, May 19.—A transfer from a west side street car line, found in the discarded clothing of Michael Lirgio, by the police led to his confession of having killed his wife, Elizabeth Lirgio, in a rooming house Sunday night. Lirgio told the police he killed his wife when she refused to leave a resort and return to live with him.

Why Do the Commuters Pay More? Because SOMEBODY Has Got to Pay

And the Little, Disorganized Suburbanite Makes About as Attractive a Victim as Can Be Found

Copyright, 1910, by American-Journal-Examiner

The little clerk who "commutes," and the prosperous little middle class man who "commutes," and the pretty rich, halfway big man who "commutes"—are making a discovery!

They find that in this world SOMEBODY MUST PAY THE BILLS!

The railroads are managed by a very well ORGANIZED body of men. This body of railroad owners know what they want, and they get it usually. They STICK TOGETHER, plan together, fight together. And if they pay out a dollar with the left hand, their ORGANIZATION enables them to take in a dollar and a quarter with the right hand.

The men that work for the railroad owners are also fairly well organized. They have their unions, their leaders. They know what they want, and they usually get it, also. They are not as well organized as the railroad owners. They are not able to hire the very ablest of the lawyers to scheme for them.

But, backed up by the strength of organization and of unions, the railroad workers have been steadily getting more and more—an excellent thing, since high wages means distribution of wealth, and since the railroad workers' wages are in no case too high and in a majority of cases too low.

Looking at your beloved country, you notice your railroad owners well organized, bound together in a strong UNION!

You notice your railroad employes well organized, bound together in a strong UNION!

You notice also a large body of miscellaneous citizens, and these are sending up shrill cries of protest. Who are these shrill protesters?

These are THE COMMUTERS; these are the little gentlemen who pay the bills, after the railroad owners and the railroad employes have decided how much money they want.

For, bear in mind and remember, as the circus orator says, these little commuting people, the mixed-up, miscellaneous, topsy turvy crowd of eighty odd millions of Americans, ARE NOT ORGANIZED. They have no union, no organization.

They know what they want; they want fair treatment from the railroads, AND THEY DON'T GET IT.

They are exactly in the position that the American citizens were in before 1776, when Americans were taxed "without representation." The miscellaneous, disorganized little American commuter and the other miscellaneous, disorganized Americans are to-day taxed "without representation" much more thoroughly and extensively than they ever were before George Washington began his work, before Patrick Henry requested that somebody give him liberty or give him death.

The commuter has bought his little place in the country, or he has rented it. He figured on so much per cent. on his mortgage, so much water tax, so much school tax, so much tax on the house and grounds.

He also figured so much for the butcher, the grocer, the milk man, the coal man. And he figured also SO MUCH FOR HIS COMMUTATION TICKET.

Poor, innocent little writer of figures!

To-morrow a crooked board of assessors may increase the tax on his house and land.

The next day dishonest politicians with a water scheme may increase his water tax, or some other dishonesty may increase his school tax.

His meat tax, coal tax, grocery tax and milk tax—all such taxes are at the mercy of the trusts that regulate those taxes. And he is without "representation" in any one of those trusts when they vote to raise taxes.

Just now the miscellaneous little American, without organization or union, is emitting shrill cries and asking if we won't kindly denounce the railroads because they have suddenly, and with charming unanimity, increased the tax which is called the "commutation ticket" tax.

The laboring men, with the power of their unions, including the menace of interrupted dividends and interference by Interstate Commerce Commissions, have demanded more pay, and have it.

The railroads, having arranged for more pay for workers, said to each other: "Let us distribute this additional outlay gently and impartially among our body of unselfish little commuters, adding a little something to it for ourselves 'just for luck.'"

So every little commuter now—especially in the Eastern States, where commutation is growing—is paying more for his commutation ticket. The New Haven Railroad, the Boston & Maine Railroad, the Erie Railroad, the New York Central Railroad, the Pennsylvania Railroad—all have ordered the miscellaneous, disorganized little American gentleman to "step up to the captain's office" and pay more for their commutation tickets, 20 per cent. more, or 40 per cent. more—whatever happened to be needed.

And all the poor, little commuter can do is squeal and beat his breast. He can't walk to town. He can't give away his house.

He must submit to "taxation without representation," just as he did in the good, old days before 1776, only it is a much heavier taxation than it used to be.

Isn't this system of arbitrary taxation by the railroads unjust? Of course it is. Isn't it unfair to the man who, in good faith, got his real estate, believing that the commutation rate was fixed? Certainly it is.

Isn't it outrageous that increased pay for workmen should be put entirely on the back of the traveling public, and not at all on stockholders? Certainly.

But this is a world in which a miscellaneous, disorganized horde, facing two well-organized bodies of owners and employes, is quite sure to suffer AND TO PAY THE BILLS.

It need not be so, of course.

The original theory of our government was that all the people of this nation should be united in one great UNION.

There was to be a union of States and a union of the people. Union and co-operation were to defend the people against unjust taxes and taxation without representation of all kinds.

But that great union OF THE PEOPLE has become more or less of a polished joke. The people have been divided up into two political parties, and these parties are bossed and sold by leaders, and there is very little thought for the interests of the miscellaneous crowd for whom the original American Union was planned.

And inside of this great American Union, unwieldly, boss-ridden, governed by treacherous parties, there have sprung up two other kinds of unions. These are the unions of CORPORATION OWNERS and CORPORATION EMPLOYES. There are no parties dividing THESE UNIONS! Each union works UNITEDLY FOR THE BENEFIT OF ITS MEMBERS. Each gets what it goes after.

And the original American union of miscellaneous citizens, divided, misgoverned, pay the bills, AND THEY WILL CONTINUE TO PAY THE BILLS. AND PAY TRUST TAXES AND LABOR TAXES INDEFINITELY, OR until there exhibits AN INTELLIGENT UNION OF THE CITIZENS.

When the great body of citizens get THEIR union and make up their minds what THEY want, they will get what they want.

Meanwhile, they will pay whatever they are told to pay.

He Writes About A Chance Pa Took

By WILLIAM F. KIRK

THIS is a tuff world, sed Pa. To-day we are sipping milk, & to-morrow we are dying of thirst. I sum times wish I cud lay me down & dee, sed Pa, like Anny Laurie's beau. Well, sed Ma, any time that you feel you shud lay you down & dee, dount let me stop you. You are yure own boss, Ma sed, & you at lest know enuff to lay down. But what seems to be the big trubbel to-day?

Well, sed Pa, it is a long & a painful story. You see, a frend of mine calm up to me last week & sed Bill, I have a grate skeem for going out to the Pacific Coast & seeing the grate fite between Mister Johnson & Mister Jeffries. I have here a little sum, which is full of marbles, every marbel having a different number on it, from one to two hundred. Then, sed Pa, this frend of mine went on to explain that if you drew No. 1 you paid me (1) cent, & if you drew No. 200 you paid $2.00. In other words, whatever you drew, you paid that many cents.

I see, sed Ma, & I suppose you bit. I did, sed Pa, I bet my frend shake up the box, & the first pill that rolled out was No. 200, so I licked in with my last $2.00. Thank you, sed my frend, now, you understand, if No. 200 cums out in the drawing you git a ticket clear to the coast & back, with a fine hotel privilege in Frisco, & the porter will shine yure shoes if you menshun my name. Goodbye.

That dosent sound like a very bad plan, sed Ma. I am sure one cuddent go cleer to Frisco & see a fite & cum back on much less money.

Wait a minnit, wait a minnit, sed Pa. This frend of mine, whose naim is Frank Johnson, certainly gafv me the worst of it. Just as he was explaining all about how to catch the different trains if I won, a gust of wind cairn along, Pa sed, & blew the littel box out of his hand, & the box busted open & what do you think? All of the pills in that box was the saim number, 200!

It serves you rite, sed Ma. You are always trying these fly skims. You are what dear old Poet Whittier used to call the Come-On Kid.

I dount think you are very simpathetik, sed Pa. It was onst sed by a grate lady riter that men married because wen they made mistakes they could go hoam & be cuddled by their wives and petted like kids.

Well, sed Ma, I dount know what that lady's naim was, but if you hit on that Johnson gaim & lost yure $2.00 & then calm hoam to be cuddled, you had yure long ride for nothing. You'll have as much chanst to be cuddled as Roger Bresnahan has to win the pennant in the National Leeg, & by the way, sed Ma, how about that $10.00 you wer going to slip me for sum new gloves?

Well, sed Pa, here is $8 of the ten. You see, the $2.00 that I spent for the chanst on the Johnson gaim was the last two that I had in the world, until to-morrow, & I must send out at least two more out of yure ten. There is no use talking any more about it, sed Pa. I always have to have some change forthcoms, and either you talk the $8.00 or you dount get a cent till to-morrow. That goes the way I says, Pa sed, & dount beegin to cry, beekaus the more you cry the less munny you will get.

So Ma stopped crying & took the eight.

Hints for the Spring

By WEX JONES

AT this time of year every one who writes, addresses a screed to the public under the title, "How to Keep Well in Spring," or some such caption. To simplify matters for the general reader or the consensus of opinion—as the racing writers put it—is here presented.

In the first place, during the Spring months be careful not to eat any meat. Meat is full of protoplasmic poliphiles, which are perniciously active on those bright April days, and, as it is estimated that a pound of lean beef contains three billion poliphiles, the menace to health is evident even to the layman. Fat beef is about as dangerous, so the best plan is to abstain altogether from meat.

Avoid eating vegetables in Spring. One ounce has been found to act as incubator of 18,000,000 troglodytic emmenagogues. This fact alone is enough to cause physicians to prescribe all forms of vegetable food. The question of diet is especially important just now, and those who eat salads have only one class to compete with them in folly, and that is the class of people who eat cooked vegetables. It is all very well for the elephant and the giraffe at the circus to eat hay, but you are not an elephant and probably not a giraffe.

Next in importance to proper diet is proper clothing. Next to the skin should be worn pure wool. On the feet shoes should be worn and on the head a hat or cap. Linen is the best material for underclothing, as it kids the skin into believing that it's happy. Socks should preferably be worn inside the shoes in Spring although, worn outside in Winter, they prevent one from slipping.

Plenty of exercise in the open air is necessary, but care must be taken not to breathe the Spring air, which is laden with bacteriphidistelli, the germs of neurasthenograph. Sleeping in the open air is beneficial also, but the head should be enveloped in a gunny sack.

Many persons at the time of year experience a feeling of lassitude. Do not give way to this. If you feel tired, it is because your mind tells you that you are tired. Do not allow your mind to do this. Believe you feel frisky and go out and run twenty miles. This will limber you up and make you feel young again, especially if you don't allow yourself to believe you are still after it, or that your feet are blistered.

To sum up the advice as briefly as possible:

Don't eat meat.
Don't eat regulated.
Don't take cool, tepid or hot baths.
Don't feel tired.
Don't get sick.
Do eat nourishing food.
Do get plenty of fresh air.
Do take numerous baths.
Do wear linen underwear.
Do wear wool underwear.
